DUCE DETERMINED TO GAIN TERRITORY

THREE THIEVES ROB SALESMAN OF RICH JEWELS

Herman Hamburger, Of New York, Tells Union County Sheriff Of Holdup

HE, CHAUFFEUR KIDNAPED

Sample Case Holding Gems Worth $25,000 Missing, Officer Informed

MARYSVILLE, March 30—A widespread hunt was instituted today by state police for three bandits who robbed Herman Hamburger, 45, New York City, of $25,000 worth of jewelry after kidnapping Hamburger and his Negro chauffeur, William Redmond.

Hamburger, a jewelry salesman told Sheriff Homer Roosa that he was enroute from Cincinnati to Parkersburg, W. Va., last night when his car was stopped near Prattsville, 12 miles east of here, by three men in a small sedan.

Two of the men forced Hamburger and Redmond to lie down in the back of Hamburger's car while they drove several miles, followed by the third man in the bandit car.

Sample Case Taken

Hamburger said a sample case containing the jewelry was transferred to the bandit car when he and Redmond were left on a lonely road near New California.

The trio, all armed, let the car out of the tires on Hamburger's car before fleeing in their machine.

Roosa reported that Hamburger told him he flung a black satchel containing between $3,000 and $5,000 worth of jewelry from the car. State police were assigned to search for the satchel.

Hamburger said he knew the men were experienced jewel thieves because of several questions they asked. He also reported the men relieved him and Redmond of $130 in cash before leaving them stranded.

They reached a farmhouse and called the sheriff's office and a deputy brought them to Marysville.

The salesman offered a reward of $200 for return of the bag of jewelry he threw from the car. He said the stolen jewelry was wedding and diamond rings.

Sgt. R. T. Sommers of the state patrol took charge of the case.

Hamburger told him it was the third time he had been robbed in 30 years as a gem salesman. In 1926 he lost $100,000 in diamonds in Louisville, while a year later in Minneapolis bandits took jewelry worth $150,000, he said.

Congress Points Toward June Recess

Fish-Eating Champ?

IRVING M. CLARK, 20-year-old Harvard sophomore and intercollegiate goldfish-swallowing champion, demonstrates his technique, in Cambridge, Mass., after gulping twenty-four live fish. Other Harvard men have formed a society against such goings on and urge that Clark be required to drink two gallons of water daily so the fish will be comfortable.

'GULPING DERBY' MUST END, SAYS FANCIER OF FISH

BOSTON, March 30—The intercollegiate goldfish gulping derby ran into a red light today.

Soon after Donald V. Mulcahy, Boston College junior, had shattered the existing intercollegiate mark by swallowing 30 of the finny folk President Robert F. Sells of the Animal Rescue League took steps to halt the depopulation of the nation's goldfish bowls.

"This thing has gone far enough," said Eller. "I am going to communicate with various college officials and complain against the practice of swallowing live goldfish. If that doesn't help I won't hesitate to bring the matter into court. There have been many complaints."

The goldfish gulping title, first held by a girl student at Wellesley college, has since shifted in rapid succession to Harvard, Holy Cross, Franklin & Marshall, University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan and Boston College. So far the goldfish are 115 down in the one sided competition.

WOMAN QUIZZED AS MURDERESS OF THREE MEN

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 30—Protesting her innocence, Mrs. Victoria LeFebvre, 53, today was placed under arrest for the alleged poisoning of her husband as police investigated the deaths of her two former husbands, one in Montreal.

Authorities said they had learned that the couple had quarreled over an insurance policy.

Arrest of the widow followed a post-mortem examination which allegedly showed that the husband, Floriente LeFebvre, had died from the effects of poison at the couple's farm last January 21.

Investigation into his death was begun after neighbors revealed that Mrs. LeFebvre had purchased a deadly poison, ostensibly to destroy the family dog. Police said the couple did not own a dog.

In her cell in Fitchburg Mrs. LeFebvre continually knelt in prayer, crying she was innocent. She said:

"There is no reason why I should want to murder my husband. I did not give him poison in any form. I cannot understand why I am being charged with this horrible crime. Floriente had been ill of stomach trouble for some time prior to his death. He refused to see a doctor."

State police said that previous husbands of Mrs. LeFebvre were Adrian Diagneault, whom she married in Montreal in 1903 and who died in 1921 and Floyd Joseph Vallee who died in 1936, apparently of stomach trouble.

SALT CREEK FLOOD WATERS INUNDATE ROUTES 56 AND 180

Two Highways Closed Early Thursday; Over Inch Of Rain Recorded

Two highways were closed Thursday by the flood waters from Saltcreek.

Charles Mowery, state highway superintendent, reported that Route 56 at the edge of Laurelville and Route 180 between Route 56 and Adelphi were flooded. Both were closed about 7:30 a. m.

These highways were the only ones inundated Thursday by flood waters in Pickaway county, Mr. Mowery said. Streams throughout the county are swollen but so far the river is not bank full. It is expected to rise steadily during the day.

Rainfall in the 24 hours preceding 8 a. m. Thursday amounted to 1.2 inches making a total of 3.8 inches of rain since Sunday.

The temperature remained steady from Wednesday afternoon until Thursday morning resting at 49 degrees. Rain was predicted for late Thursday with fair and colder weather Friday.

The heavy rains have halted farm work and provided the rural districts with plenty of mud. There have been no complaints from farmers about the rain. They say it will help the wheat and grasses. In some districts plowing was delayed by the dry condition of the land.

STATE REDUCES $3,384 BILL FOR PATIENT TO $143

County officials considered a trip to Columbus, Wednesday, exceedingly worthwhile when they succeeded in having a bill for $3,384.66, allegedly due the state for care of an inmate at the Orient institution, reduced to $143.

Officials who conferred with representatives of officers of the state auditor, attorney general and the welfare department about the bill were C. C. Young, probate judge; Forrest Short, county auditor; George E. Gerhardt, county prosecutor, and John Keller, commissioner. The three officials met Mr. Keller in Columbus.

The state had billed the county for $3,384.66, contending that this amount was due for the care of Thomas Borsuck, committed to the institution in March, 1927 from Probate court. The county officials contended Borsuck was not a resident of the county nor a citizen of the United States. They contended he is a native of Poland and was found in or near Derby and taken to the institution. He was believed to be an escape. After being in the institution for several years he was committed from this county in 1927.

The county officials said their first notice of the bill was received July 1. After conferences with officials of the state departments arrangements were worked out for the county to pay for the care of Borsuck since July 1, 1938, and the old bill dropped. The county agreed to pay for further keep of Borsuck. The charge is $5.50 weekly.

FAMILY OF SIX REMOVED FROM WALNUT TOWNSHIP

An indigent family of six persons was removed from Walnut township to Paintsville, Ky., Thursday by the county relief department.

This family is the fifth removed from Pickaway county this year and returned to their former homes where they are eligible for relief. Last year the county relief department removed 180 persons from the county.

RECESSION?—NEIN, NEIN SAY MEMBERS OF CREW ON LINER AMSTERDAM

NEW YORK, March 30—You can't persuade the captain and crew of the Holland-America liner Nieuw Amsterdam there is any such thing as a depression or even a recession. Representatives of the liner, newly returned from a 14,000 mile cruise around South America, reported today the 575 passengers spent $1,300,000 for their pleasure jaunt.

The bookings cost $1,000,000. Champagne, still wines, whiskey and other beverages including 21,000 glasses of Netherlands beer cost $21,000. Shore excursions added $150,000. Another $60,000 went for shore purchases. Tips added $20,000.

ACTOR GRILLED IN DEATH PROBE

Hollywood Police Arrest Suspect In Murder Of Russian Dancer

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—Police early today said they were holding on suspicion of murder, Joseph D. Bushane, 43, an actor, in connection with the murder of Anya Sosoyeva, Russian dancer, on the campus of Los Angeles City College night school last February 24.

Bushane was arrested on a tip from an unidentified person.

Detectives were questioning him about the near fatal attack yesterday on Della Bogard, young film actress, but Bushane denied knowledge of both crimes.

However, officers said, Ethyl Chenette, 40, a circus performer, picked out Bushane from a group of men as the man who recently knocked her down and kicked her as she was returning from a theatre in the vicinity of the Bogard attack.

OHIO'S ADJUTANT GENERAL LOSES IN SENATE VOTE

COLUMBUS, March 30—By a unanimous vote the senate military affairs committee today recommended passage of the bill to abolish the life tenure of the adjutant-general and assistant quartermaster-general.

The measure, passed by the house last week, will probably be voted on in the senate early next week.

Introduced by Rep. William E. Fleckner (R-Ottawa) the bill would repeal an act passed by the last general assembly which allowed the three officers to remain with the state until the army retirement age of 65.

Fleckner's bill would give each governor the power to appoint his own military staff.

The bill met with opposition from Adj. Gen. Emil F. Marx, St. Marys, who would lose his job if the senate approves the measure. It has the support of Governor Bricker. Col. Loucks Brown, Kenton, assistant to Marx, and Col. John A. Blount, Hillsboro, assistant quartermaster-general, are the other officers affected.

Marx was the only one appearing in opposition to the bill.

F. D. DISCLOSES DESIRABLE LIST OF 10 MEASURES

No "Must" Legislation Put Before Solons By Chief Executive

FARM STATUTE TO STAND

Neutrality Law Assigned First Position On Senate Docket

WASHINGTON, March 30—The administration narrowed its legislative program for this session of congress to ten subjects today and fixed a late June adjournment goal.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley outlined plans for a ten-point "desirable" program after a conference with President Roosevelt yesterday. He emphasized the plans were tentative. His "desirable" list included:

- 1—Neutrality legislation — on which committee work has started.
- 2—Railroad legislation "of some sort," but not extensive.
- 3—A measure holding the Social Security tax at one percent for another year.
- 4—Regular departmental appropriation bills.
- 5—W. P. A. emergency and regular relief appropriations.
- 6—Re-enactment of the "nuisance" taxes.
- 7—Reciprocal federal-state salary taxation.
- 8—Action to aid cotton, and farm relief funds, but no general rewriting of the present basic farm act.
- 9—Federal Housing and U. S. Housing administration loan limit increases.
- 10—Regular and emergency national defense measures.

Labor Changes Not Listed
Notably absent from his program were Labor act and wage-hour law changes. Barkley said that "any real changes could come only after extensive hearings."

"It may be that a lot of difficulties with the Wagner act could be worked out by administrative changes," he said.

"Congress ought to try to get through in June. That might eliminate the possibility of action on various pieces of legislation that various groups are demanding. In view of the hearings on neutrality it is difficult to say what will pass. Nothing is 'must.' Some measures are desirable."

He expected to take up the reciprocal federal-state salary taxation bill next week, but was doubtful that proposals to amend it to include reciprocal taxation of federal and state securities could be passed. Senator Clark (D) Missouri, plans such an amendment.

Barkley made it clear that re-

AUTHOR, 14 AIDES FEARED LOST IN SAILING CRAFT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30—Ships plying the Pacific in the vicinity of Wake island today reported a week of fruitless effort to contact the small sailing craft of Richard Halliburton.

The author and adventurer, with a crew of 10 Americans and four Chinese, embarked from Hong Kong on March 4 for a cruise to San Francisco. The ship's last radio communication was intercepted March 23. Halliburton then reported the vessel nearing a cyclonic area, 1,000 miles west of Midway island.

A message from the liner President Taft by Mackay Radio in San Francisco stated a severe gale was blowing over the same area today.

Hope meanwhile was expressed that failure to keep communication schedules might be due to failure of radio equipment on Halliburton's craft.

Gable, Lombard are Wed In Surprise Elopement

MR. AND MRS. CLARK GABLE

Kingman, Ariz., Clerk Says Famous Screen Stars Shy in Applying For License; Colony Thrilled

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—The San Fernando valley ranch home of Screen Hero Clark Gable was in readiness today for the return from Nevada of Gable and his new bride, Carole Lombard, blonde screen beauty whom he married late yesterday in a surprise elopement to Kingman, Ariz.

It was an elopement that left the film colony buzzing with excitement, although it was a foregone conclusion the popular film pair was to be married shortly.

Gable, recently divorced in Nevada by Mrs. Maria Gable, and Miss Lombard had been spied on by reporters constantly since Gable was divorced, many film writers predicting the date on which they would be married.

But yesterday practically all of the film writers were in San Francisco to attend the world premiere of "The story of Alexander Graham Bell," and the vigilance was let down.

That's all there was to it, so far as Clark and Carole were concerned. They hopped into Gable's car early yesterday, picked up Otto Winkler, a studio representative, and departed for Kingman.

Late in the afternoon, in the Methodist church of the Rev. Kenneth Engle, with Winkler, Mrs. Engle and Howard Cate, Kingman high school principal, the long-publicized romance of the two famous stars was culminated.

Both Persons Shy

Viola Olsen, county clerk at Kingman, revealed the romantic Gable and the glamorous Carole were very shy indeed when they appeared before her and asked for a marriage license.

Gable, she said, timidly asked her who she could recommend to marry them, and Miss Olsen, thrilled beyond words by presence of so great a pair, recommended Rev. Engle.

When the ceremony was over Gable and Miss Lombard headed for Boulder City, Nevada, where they planned to stay overnight, returning to Hollywood today.

Before they left, however, Gable turned reporter and called the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer press bureau in Hollywood to give details of the wedding.

It was Gable's third marriage and the second for his wife. Gable first was married to Joan (Continued on Page Eight)

MYSTERY VEILS PREMIER'S NEXT MOVE FOR LAND

"Will Not Remain Prisoner Of Mediterranean," Villagers Told

MANY TROOPS SUMMONED

Rome Newspapers Ignoring Daladier's Warning From Paris

ROME, March 30—Italy has no intention of remaining "a prisoner of the Mediterranean," Premier Benito Mussolini declared today in a brief but forceful answer to Premier Edouard Daladier of France.

Enroute to Calabria on the southwestern tip of the Italian boot, Il Duce stopped off at Cosenza and to a crowd of Black-shirts and peasants who turned out to greet him, declared:

"Italy does not in the least intend to remain a prisoner of the Mediterranean."

As Mussolini departed from Rome, between 100,000 and 130,000 specialists and officers of the 1905 and 1906 classes were called to the colors.

Italian officials described it as a "routine measure" to supply specialist and officers for the 300,000 new recruits called up on March 22.

Mussolini gave no clue as to his immediate intentions and did not divulge whether Italy plans any concrete advances to France, as suggested by Daladier as the only means of breaking the present deadlock and opening negotiations for consideration of Italy's claims in Tunisia, Djibouti and Suez.

Italy Determined

His brief declaration left no doubt, however, that by one means or another Italy is determined to carry out consolidation and aggrandizement of its African empire.

Il Duce devoted most of his talk to the overwhelming victory of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Spain:

"I am happy," he said, "to visit this rich and generous soil at a moment when the hearts of all Italians swell with joy over the victory of General Franco."

"The idiotic and miserable prophecies of leftists have been destroyed by the will and faith of the Italian people."

Mussolini's blunt warning to France and other nations which, from the Italian point of view, are seeking to deprive Italy of its just rights, was interpreted in some quarters as an indication that Il Duce does not intend, for the moment at least, to set in motion the diplomatic conversations proposed by Daladier.

Up to France

His attitude from the outset has been that it is up to France to take the initiative in satisfying Italy's colonial aspirations. If this initiative is not forthcoming, some quarters believed, Il Duce may move as he sees fit in the territories under dispute, with the knowledge that Reichsfuehrer (Continued on Page Eight)

Europe's Crisis

By International News Service
The deadlock between France and Italy on Premier Mussolini's colonial claims remained unbroken today as Il Duce flatly warned Premier Edouard Daladier that Italy "does not intend to remain a prisoner of the Mediterranean." Developments:

ROME—Mussolini left for Calabria on an unspecified mission as between 100,000 and 130,000 officers and specialists were called to the colors.

LONDON—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain summoned another extraordinary cabinet meeting to consider progress of international measures against aggression.

PARIS—France keenly awaited detailed reaction from Rome on Daladier's address, maintaining that the next step in the Franco-Italian colonial dispute is up to Italy.

MADRID—Intensive police operations were launched in preparation for Generalissimo Francisco Franco's triumphant entry into Madrid.

AUTHOR, 14 AIDES FEARED LOST IN SAILING CRAFT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30—Ships plying the Pacific in the vicinity of Wake island today reported a week of fruitless effort to contact the small sailing craft of Richard Halliburton.

The author and adventurer, with a crew of 10 Americans and four Chinese, embarked from Hong Kong on March 4 for a cruise to San Francisco. The ship's last radio communication was intercepted March 23. Halliburton then reported the vessel nearing a cyclonic area, 1,000 miles west of Midway island.

A message from the liner President Taft by Mackay Radio in San Francisco stated a severe gale was blowing over the same area today.

Hope meanwhile was expressed that failure to keep communication schedules might be due to failure of radio equipment on Halliburton's craft.

MR. AND MRS. CLARK GABLE

Kingman, Ariz., Clerk Says Famous Screen Stars Shy in Applying For License; Colony Thrilled

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—The San Fernando valley ranch home of Screen Hero Clark Gable was in readiness today for the return from Nevada of Gable and his new bride, Carole Lombard, blonde screen beauty whom he married late yesterday in a surprise elopement to Kingman, Ariz.

It was an elopement that left the film colony buzzing with excitement, although it was a foregone conclusion the popular film pair was to be married shortly.

Gable, recently divorced in Nevada by Mrs. Maria Gable, and Miss Lombard had been spied on by reporters constantly since Gable was divorced, many film writers predicting the date on which they would be married.

But yesterday practically all of the film writers were in San Francisco to attend the world premiere of "The story of Alexander Graham Bell," and the vigilance was let down.

That's all there was to it, so far as Clark and Carole were concerned. They hopped into Gable's car early yesterday, picked up Otto Winkler, a studio representative, and departed for Kingman.

Late in the afternoon, in the Methodist church of the Rev. Kenneth Engle, with Winkler, Mrs. Engle and Howard Cate, Kingman high school principal, the long-publicized romance of the two famous stars was culminated.

Both Persons Shy
Viola Olsen, county clerk at Kingman, revealed the romantic Gable and the glamorous Carole were very shy indeed when they appeared before her and asked for a marriage license.

Gable, she said, timidly asked her who she could recommend to marry them, and Miss Olsen, thrilled beyond words by presence of so great a pair, recommended Rev. Engle.

When the ceremony was over Gable and Miss Lombard headed for Boulder City, Nevada, where they planned to stay overnight, returning to Hollywood today.

Before they left, however, Gable turned reporter and called the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer press bureau in Hollywood to give details of the wedding.

It was Gable's third marriage and the second for his wife. Gable first was married to Joan (Continued on Page Eight)

Rome Newspapers Ignoring Daladier's Warning From Paris

ROME, March 30—Italy has no intention of remaining "a prisoner of the Mediterranean," Premier Benito Mussolini declared today in a brief but forceful answer to Premier Edouard Daladier of France.

Enroute to Calabria on the southwestern tip of the Italian boot, Il Duce stopped off at Cosenza and to a crowd of Black-shirts and peasants who turned out to greet him, declared:

"Italy does not in the least intend to remain a prisoner of the Mediterranean."

As Mussolini departed from Rome, between 100,000 and 130,000 specialists and officers of the 1905 and 1906 classes were called to the colors.

Italian officials described it as a "routine measure" to supply specialist and officers for the 300,000 new recruits called up on March 22.

Mussolini gave no clue as to his immediate intentions and did not divulge whether Italy plans any concrete advances to France, as suggested by Daladier as the only means of breaking the present deadlock and opening negotiations for consideration of Italy's claims in Tunisia, Djibouti and Suez.

Italy Determined
His brief declaration left no doubt, however, that by one means or another Italy is determined to carry out consolidation and aggrandizement of its African empire.

Il Duce devoted most of his talk to the overwhelming victory of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Spain.

"I am happy," he said, "to visit this rich and generous soil at a moment when the hearts of all Italians swell with joy over the victory of General Franco."

"The idiotic and miserable prophecies of leftists have been destroyed by the will and faith of the Italian people."

Mussolini's blunt warning to France and other nations which, from the Italian point of view, are seeking to deprive Italy of its just rights, was interpreted in some quarters as an indication that Il Duce does not intend, for the moment at least, to set in motion the diplomatic conversations proposed by Daladier.

Up to France
His attitude toward the outset has been that it is up to France to take the initiative in satisfying Italy's colonial aspirations. If this initiative is not forthcoming, some quarters believed, Il Duce may move as he sees fit in the territories under dispute, with the knowledge that Reichsfuehrer (Continued on Page Eight)

POLICE TRAFFIC CHECKUP NETS TWO MOTORISTS

Two motorists were arrested by police Wednesday night in the campaign being conducted to reduce traffic violations in the city.

Rinehart Roll, 32, of Chillicothe Route 1, forfeited a bond of $3 in police court at 9 a. m. Thursday by failure to report for a hearing on a charge of running a red traffic light at Routes 22 and 56, the Lancaster pike intersection.

Richard Oney, 21, of 370 Dear avenue, Chillicothe, posted $3 bond to report at 7 p. m. Thursday on a charge of parking on the wrong side of Main street and in front of the gasoline pumps at the Ward filling station, Main and Washington streets.

Police were instructed recently by Mayor W. B. Cady to make routine checks of city streets for traffic violators.

ROTARIANS PLAN DANCE TO BENEFIT CHILDREN'S FUND
Rotarians voted Thursday noon to hold a dance after Easter for the benefit of the crippled children's fund and sponsor the sale of Easter Seals for the aid of crippled children. Date of the dance has not been decided.

The program of the meeting Thursday noon was omitted when a magician's schedule to entertain Rotarians, failed to arrive.

PARIS—France keenly awaited detailed reaction from Rome on Daladier's address, maintaining that the next step in the Franco-Italian colonial dispute is up to Italy.

MADRID—Intensive police operations were launched in preparation for Generalissimo Francisco Franco's triumphant entry into Madrid.

SENATE ALTERS VOTE ON 'RED' PROBE IN STATE

Democratic Side Of Upper House Starts Action For Reversal

ANTI-NUDISM BILL U P
Solons Approve Five Issues In Balloting During Session

COLUMBUS, March 30—Defeat of the Pollock resolution calling for a reinvestigation of alleged un-American activities in state universities appeared certain today after the senate had reconsidered, 17 to 15, the vote taken Tuesday approving the probe.

Manipulated as a surprise move by the Democratic side of the upper chamber, the motion, offered by Senator Frank S. Day (D-Cleveland) carried with no comment from either Republican or Democratic senators.

The senate voted for the probe Tuesday by a 19 to 12 majority after two hours of debate. Investigation of state-supported educational institutions was demanded by the American Legion of the state after members claimed to have discovered that subversive activities were being indulged in at Ohio State university.

Dies Plan Abandoned
The senate first attempted to rid itself of a touchy problem by voting to request the Dies committee to come to the capital from Washington to conduct a quiz.

This move was suddenly abandoned and the Pollock resolution, which had lain in the senate rules committee for several weeks, appeared on the senate calendar for adoption.

There were reports that the rules committee would shun the proposal, which has been made a special order of business for 2 p. m. today, and that the resolution would be shunted to the education committee, of which Senator Robert A. Pollock (R-Canton) is author, is chairman.

Pollock, however, insisted that he would demand a showdown on the proposal, although Senate Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore favored the move to turn it over to Pollock's committee.

Meanwhile, the house prepared to vote on the Keller bill today which would outlaw nudism and provide for heavy penalties for being a member or nudist camps.

House members argued loud and long over whether $40,000 should be appropriated for the Ohio exhibit at the New York World's Fair and finished by passing, 99 to 26, an emergency bill appropriating the $40,000 and reappropriating $100,000 set up by the last general assembly.

Five Bills Voted
The senate passed five bills which would:

Prohibit operation of new organizations for sick and accident insurance unless the organizations have a capital of at least $50,000; authorizing insurance companies and fiduciaries with investment funds to invest in obli-

AT THE GRAND
Fifteen million dollars worth of airplanes, all in one model, appear in stirring scenes of "Wings of the Navy," the Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan picture opening Sunday at the Grand theatre, and that represents probably the greatest fortune ever tied up in one kind of "properties" for a motion picture.

These planes are the proud, new, well-armed, giant twin-motored PBV-2 patrol bombing planes. In "Wings of the Navy" the giant PBV-2's thunder into the air from the surface of San Diego Bay, just off the navy's North Island air base, where a large portion of the exciting film story was screened. In other scenes they sweep gracefully down out of the sky to deposit their fourteen tons lightly on the twisting currents of the bay.

Altogether there are two hundred and sixty of these big planes, built and building, which give the United States Navy a voice of real authority in the sky. "Wings of the Navy" features George Brent, Olivia de Havilland and John Payne.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Madeleine Carroll and Fred MacMurray make a spirited bid for the starring honors of the year in their new (and first) picture together, "Cafe Society," which has its local opening next Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre. Shirley Ross co-stars.

Miss Carroll, who is generally acknowledged as one of the screen's most beautiful women, gets a chance to display all her loveliness and her acting ability as well in this high-spirited comedy satirizing New York's much-publicized "aristocracy of the night clubs." MacMurray's fans will see their hero as they like him best, a two-fisted, plain-talking reporter who shows the "flower of Cafe Society" how the "other half" lives—and loves!

gations of mortgage associations created by the national housing act; giving school boards of exempted village and county school districts the right to select school teachers and superintendents.

The senate also passed a house bill which would require county boards of revision to give complainants and property owners ten days notice of hearing on complaints. House amendments require that board decisions be referred to the property owners and complainants.

House Majority Leader J. Harry McGregor offered a resolution requesting congress to approve a pending bill of Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins, Ironton, which would require the federal security board to pay the state $1,338,160 in old age pensions money withheld last October when the board and former Governor Davey became embroiled in a dispute.

TOKYO'S ENVOY INVITES POWERS

Arita To See Ambassadors In Capital; German Interest Cools

TOKYO, March 30—Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita has invited the United States, British and French ambassadors to Tokyo to his residence tomorrow for "conversations on diplomatic affairs," it was understood today.

Nature of the proposed conversations, which aroused keen speculation, was not divulged. It was regarded as significant, however, that the reported invitation was issued immediately after a statement by Premier Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma that Japan belongs neither to the democratic nor totalitarian bloc of nations.

This statement followed reports that Japanese friendship for Germany is cooling because of the Reich's alleged interest in regaining Chinese areas lost during the World War.

The premier added Japan is anxious not to antagonize either the democracies or the Fascist states. He said basic principles of Japanese foreign policy have not changed, but that "definite measures to enforce it must be modified to meet changes in the international situation."

BENES IS TOLD KIN SAFE AFTER PRAGUE'S FALL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 30—There was rejoicing today in the Milwaukee home of John Benes, 68-year-old brother of the former president of Czechoslovakia, after word came from Washington to Mrs. Mary Benes that her husband is safe and will shortly return home.

Fears had been felt for Benes' safety following the fall of the Central European republic, at which time Benes was in Prague. Mrs. Benes and her son, Edward, said the state department at Washington based its information on a cablegram from the American consul at Prague.

WORD RECEIVED OF DEATH OF PORTSMOUTH SURGEON

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Trone of E. Franklin street have received word of the death of Dr. John N. Ellison, a well known surgeon of Portsmouth, which occurred early Thursday after a long illness. Dr. Ellison was the father-in-law of their son, James, who with Mrs. Trone resides in that community.

Mr. and Mrs. Trone will go to Portsmouth to attend the funeral, which will be Saturday.

A. R. Stokesbury, 66, lifelong resident of Fayette county, who taught school in the New Holland vicinity for some time, died at his home in Washington C. H., Wednesday after a long illness. Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. with burial in Washington cemetery.

Guam Plan Lost; Bases Provided

WASHINGTON, March 30—The senate naval affairs committee has informally agreed to reject the navy's proposal for $5,000,000 of military improvements on the Pacific island of Guam, and to report favorably next week a bill providing about $60,000,000 for a string of naval air bases in the Pacific and Atlantic.

Chairman Walsh told International News Service today: "There has been no formal action but I have talked it over with committee members and we have informally agreed to that procedure. I will call the committee together next week to report the bill. There will be no more hearings."

The Guam proposal was also rejected in the house. Walsh said that if "it was necessary later in the session," separate legislation would be introduced, or "that it might even be decided to report out a separate bill for Guam next week."

As informally agreed on by committee members, the senate bill will provide for an air base at Jacksonville, Fla., and at Quonset Point, R. I. As passed by the house, the measure authorized construction or improvement of naval air bases as follows: Kaneohe Bay, Midway Island, Wake Island, Johnston Island, Palmyra Island, Kodiak, Alaska, Sitka, Alaska, San Juan, Puerto Rico, Pensacola, Fla., Norfolk, Va., Tongue Point, Ore., and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Those with chronic ear-aches probably will erect a monument to that Newfoundland rat which crept into a radio station, got mixed up in the wires and created a short circuit which killed it and a broadcast.

Grasshoppers are only able to jump when the temperature is warmer than 62 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mississippi Farmer Reports Seeing Craft Fall In Flames

PRENTISS, Miss., March 30 — Efforts were to be renewed today to search a large swampland 15 miles northeast of Prentiss, into which a farmer reported he had seen an airplane fall in flames yesterday.

The farmer, James Polk, reported to the sheriff's office at Prentiss that the plane fell during a heavy rainstorm, and that he could not say what type of ship it was, or whether it was large or small. An attempt was made late yesterday to reach the spot, but no headway was made into the swamp.

It was believed the plane must have been privately owned, as no airports reported any planes missing or overdue. Every major air transport system stated today all ships were accounted for, and no army or navy planes were known to be missing.

HEALTH LEAGUE LEADERS HEAR DR. GRIEG TALK

Representative Of Association Pleads For Effort To Find Early Tuberculosis

CAMPAIGN IS OUTLINED
Two Members Of Pickaway Organization Attend Conference

An appeal to leaders in Fairfield, Fayette, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Lawrence, Pickaway, Pike, Ross, Scioto and Vinton counties was issued Wednesday by Charles G. Greig, Columbus, field representative of the Ohio Public Health Association, to help find early tuberculosis. The appeal was made at the annual Spring meeting of voluntary tuberculosis and public health workers, attended by representatives of tuberculosis associations and Christmas Health Seal committees in Chillicothe.

"Business and industrial leaders, school authorities, clergymen and all who 'lead' in some aspect of community life are being asked to cooperate in bringing about a difficult, but not impossible goal—the eradication of tuberculosis," Mr. Greig said.

"Eight out of ten persons admitted to tuberculosis hospitals today are in advanced stages of the disease," Benjamin F. Knepper, Columbus, also a representative of the Ohio Public Health Association, said in outlining campaign plans for the 1939 Early Diagnosis Campaign which is sponsored nationally and locally by tuberculosis associations each year.

Mrs. Virgil Hess, Chillicothe, presided at the all-day session held at the Probate Court Room. Local programs of tuberculosis testing in the schools, public health nursing, and reports of the 1938 Christmas Seal sale were announced.

Attending the meeting were Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, executive secretary, and Mrs. George L. Crites, city chairman, of the Pickaway county Public Health League. There were 24 persons in attendance from six organizations.

ASHVILLE By S. D. FRIDLEY Phone, Ashville 79

Quite a few of the community farm people were here today and in conversation with several, they told us that while this rain caused the ground to be too wet for plowing, it was just the kind of weather for wheat and grass—cool with moisture.

John Sark a few days ago came across something new in the art of brick making. He told us that in removing some bricks from a well which was no longer in use, found that instead of the ends being square, they were beveled to exactly fit the circular well. Who made these circle-fitting bricks and when, no one here knows, not even any of the old brick yard workers of whom a few yet remain and who are pleased to tell about the days when great kilns of this kind of building material was manufactured here. Our William Essick out on Walsut street was an expert brick moulder in that old day.

The Billy's Goat cast for Friday night out at the school auditorium is Paul Bowers, William Martin, Charlotte Courtright, Charlotte Dunnick, Donna Smith, Florence Smith, Robert Berger, Dorothy Hinkle, Betty Monroe and Robert Cummins. Curtain, 8 o'clock. Music, high school orchestra.

Glenn Kraft, a former Ashville young man and who graduated from the local high school with the class of 1916, J. B. Snyder superintendent has purchased a hardware store at Worthington and is in charge of his purchase. His father and grandfather, the late Warren and George H. Kraft were dealers in this line in Ashville for many years.

Newton Hollingshead, of fisherman fame, had a birthday again a couple of days ago, he said, and some of his Columbus friends, who do lots of fishing themselves, were down at his home to celebrate and brought with them for Newton, some of the very latest, big fishing tackle to be had. So it won't be long now until Newton will be locating that big one that gave him such a bad round last summer, and then another battle will be on.

In Waterloo, Neb., barbers are forbidden by law to eat onions between the hours of 7 in the morning and 7 in the evening on working days.

At Cancer Forum

DR. WILLIAM MORRISON

Dr. Morrison, former president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, will speak on "Cancer Control" at an open meeting in Memorial Hall at 8 p. m., Friday sponsored by the local division of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

Mrs. William D. Radcliff of Williamsport, Pickaway county chairman of the Women's Field Army of the society, will introduce Dr. Morrison.

The speaker is on the staff at Grant hospital, Columbus, and also a visiting surgeon of the Columbus Cancer Clinic.

The medical profession is convinced that cancer is not a hopeless, incurable disease and is not contagious or in itself hereditary. There are thousands of men and women in the country today, who have been successfully treated for cancer. The great hope for cancer patients lies in their having treatment during the first stages of the disease.

Mrs. Radcliff extends an invitation to all interested citizens of Pickaway County to attend the meeting, part of which will be conducted as a forum.

LAW TO EXEMPT $200 WORKERS GAINS SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, March 30—Wage-hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews has approved the proposal before congress to exempt persons receiving a salary of $200 or more a month from the hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards act.

Andrews submitted a formal brief to the senate and house labor committees and it was on his recommendation that Chairman Mary T. Norton, of the house labor committee, introduced a bill to revise the act, not only for employees in the $200 classification, but to provide limited exemptions for seasonal processors, small, independent telephone exchanges, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

"A guaranteed monthly salary of either $200 or $250 would be a satisfactory basis of exemption from the act," Andrews asserted in his brief. "A lower figure than a considerable number of salaried workers to whom overtime benefits of the act should be extended. Exemption of all salaried workers who receive $200 or more, or $250 or more a month, would exclude from the act, regardless of other provisions, considerable proportion of those whose work requires flexibility of weekly hours and whose salaries are commensurate with their responsibility."

California has adopted an official state butterfly. We don't know its scientific name but "Miss Hollywood" might be appropriate.

'RING' PLACED ABOUT MOSCOW TO HALT RAID

Anti-Aircraft Zone Series Built By Soviet To Repel Invaders

CITY IS BELIEVED SAFE

Five Concrete Highways To Aid Traffic To Gain Forest Safety

MOSCOW, March 30—Although Moscow is safer from air attack than any other European capital, a survey of Soviet defenses today revealed that the military authorities of Red Russia have left no stone unturned in building an "iron ring" about the Russian metropolis.

Taking advantage of their natural geographic defenses, which place Moscow 400 miles from the nearest border, military chiefs have constructed a series of anti-aircraft zones, designed to bring down any invading air forces shortly after it crosses the border.

The number of fighters, bombers, and anti-aircraft guns available for defense is a strict military secret, but the large number of military airdromes and anti-aircraft stations ringing the city is an indication that the Russians have not let the construction of their fighting machine lapse.

Balloon Barrages Ready

Balloon barrages have never been seen at Moscow, but it is understood they are ready for use in the frontier zones.

Special surface shells, such as have been constructed in London and Paris, do not exist here. Moscow's 20-mile reinforced concrete subway is deeper than any other European underground railway and is believed impregnable to present-day aerial bombs.

The subway is ventilated artificially in order to prevent the influx of any toxic gases.

Evacuation plans have not been made public, but the problem is relatively simple, since the outskirts are readily accessible by the five subway lines radiating from the center towards the seven railway stations, which can be reached in ten minutes.

Woods Not Far Away

From these stations, fast electric trains lead to a belt of deep woods five or ten miles from the Kremlin heart of Moscow.

In addition, under the 10-year plan for the reconstruction of Moscow begun in 1934, five concrete highways have been built connecting the center of the town with the forests which are at least fifty miles deep. No other big towns exist within this radius.

Several hundred electric trolley buses, 3,000 petrol buses and 1,500 taxicabs afford auxiliary means of evacuation.

Population Well-Drilled

The capital's 4,000,000 population is well-drilled in anti-gas precautions, which have been a common, daily sight for the last few years. Thousands of workers, soldiers, housewives are undergoing long marches while wearing gas masks.

Under the auspices of the Osoaviakhim (Volunteer Society for Chemical Aid Defense with a national membership of over 15,000,000) and in close cooperation with the Red Army, residential areas are divided into small blocs of houses under the direction of special instructors, constantly practicing air-raid precautions such as the use of gas masks, black-outs, first-aid, and the rapid construction of temporary shelters.

'DOUG' STILL AS MODEST AS DAY HE HIT IRELAND

PORTLAND, Ore. — Douglas Corrigan, the flier who went the wrong way and made good, is still as modest and unassuming as the day he landed in Dublin thinking it was Los Angeles.

The youthful aviator stepped out of a day-coach with only a small "overnight bag" with an extra shirt" to fulfill a three-day personal appearance tour in the northwest.

Public response to Corrigan's initial film appearance may induce him to do another movie. He may also write another book.

Corrigan came to Portland direct from the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco, where the small antiquated plane that took him to Ireland is on exhibit. "While I was there someone tried to pull the doggone compass out," laughed Corrigan. "The compass still works both ways—right and wrong."

ANNABELLA TO APPEAR

Annabella, glamorous Parisienne actress said to be engaged to Tyrone Power, will play the lead in an original radio drama to be given on the CBS Star Theatre Wednesday, April 5, at 9 p. m. Just back from a South American vacation, Annabella will be introduced by Ken Murray, m. c. of the show, and will be supported in the dramatic skit by the Star Theatre stock players. Annabella rarely makes radio appearances, so her guest spot on the Star Theatre is a four-star event for this rapidly climbing show.

All set to welcome Cary back are Basil Rathbone, the Marx Brothers, John Carter, the Fourstones, and Robert Emmet Dolan's orchestra. It was the press of motion picture work that kept Grant away from the hour that's heard over the NBC red network at 10 p. m. (EST) for the past few weeks. As "beadle" of "The Circle," his duties consist partly of figuring out ways to initiate new members.

'RING' PLACED ABOUT MOSCOW TO HALT RAID

CITY IS BELIEVED SAFE

Five Concrete Highways To Aid Traffic To Gain Forest Safety

MOSCOW, March 30—Although Moscow is safer from air attack than any other European capital, a survey of Soviet defenses today revealed that the military authorities of Red Russia have left no stone unturned in building an "iron ring" about the Russian metropolis.

Taking advantage of their natural geographic defenses, which place Moscow 400 miles from the nearest border, military chiefs have constructed a series of anti-aircraft zones, designed to bring down any invading air forces shortly after it crosses the border.

The number of fighters, bombers, and anti-aircraft guns available for defense is a strict military secret, but the large number of military airdromes and anti-aircraft stations ringing the city is an indication that the Russians have not let the construction of their fighting machine lapse.

Balloon Barrages Ready

Balloon barrages have never been seen at Moscow, but it is understood they are ready for use in the frontier zones.

Special surface shells, such as have been constructed in London and Paris, do not exist here. Moscow's 20-mile reinforced concrete subway is deeper than any other European underground railway and is believed impregnable to present-day aerial bombs.

The subway is ventilated artificially in order to prevent the influx of any toxic gases.

Evacuation plans have not been made public, but the problem is relatively simple, since the outskirts are readily accessible by the five subway lines radiating from the center towards the seven railway stations, which can be reached in ten minutes.

Woods Not Far Away

From these stations, fast electric trains lead to a belt of deep woods five or ten miles from the Kremlin, heart of Moscow.

In addition, under the 10-year plan for the reconstruction of Moscow begun in 1934, five concrete highways have been built connecting the center of the town with the forests which are at least fifty miles deep. No other big towns exist within this radius.

Several hundred electric trolley buses, 3,000 petrol buses and 1,500 taxicabs afford auxiliary means of evacuation.

Population Well-Drilled

The capital's 4,000,000 population is well-drilled in anti-gas precautions, which have been a common, daily sight for the last few years. Thousands of workers, soldiers, housewives are undergoing long marches while wearing gas masks.

SOCIAL SECURITY CHANGES

IT IS good news to business that the Social Security Board, Secretary Morgenthau and President Roosevelt are all agreed that the $47,000,000 reserve fund supposed to be amassed for the future payment of old age insurance is not necessary. They suggest that the comparatively small amount of three billions or less should be the goal. To effect this, Secretary Morgenthau recommends that the automatic increase in the payroll tax which would become effective in 1940 be made smaller or postponed entirely for two years more.

Two benefits derive from this decision. The critics who held that the $47,000,000 reserve fund would never be anything but a fiction and a deception, will not have to worry about it any more. The evils they believed it would create are now eliminated.

More important, perhaps, the additional tax on employers' payrolls and employees' wages is dropped and business is given release from one of the burdens of which it has complained.

Important, too, is this tangible evidence that further changes in the Social Security Act may be made as their need becomes clear. The principle of social security seems to be a permanent addition to American life, but the right law to make it effective is probably yet to be written.

SUSPICIOUS COUNTRIES

THE proposed alliance to preserve European peace—such as it is—and to halt the Nazis encountered obstacles as soon as it was mentioned. Britain and France suggested it eagerly, if not hopefully. Russia and Turkey looked upon it favorably. Other countries, supposed to jump at the plan, remained cautiously aloof or openly suspicious.

Poland, for example, could see no safety in a pact that would require an open stand against Germany without any guarantee of military assistance in case of trouble. Declarations of good will on the part of the democracies did not save Austria or Czechoslovakia, Ethiopia, Spain or China. Naturally, Poland hesitated to antagonize the great aggressor by joining a bloc against him.

Switzerland and the Netherlands have no enthusiasm for such a pact. They hope to maintain their independence by keeping free of alliances. They don't like talk of foreign armies using their lands as highways.

The Scandinavian countries keep very quiet, as do the neighbors of the late Czechoslovakia.

This attitude may not be constructive, but it is understandable. When Britain and France let the League of Nations become ineffective they lost the confidence of the

"NO UNEMPLOYMENT IN GERMANY"

WASHINGTON—Hitler is a long way from abolishing unemployment in Germany, according to a secret study made by Hugh S. Hanna, crack statistician of the Labor Department.

The report, based entirely on German Government figures, shows that:

(1) Productive employment—that is, non-military employment—proportionately is much higher in this country than in Germany.

(2) Hitler has blown up his employment figures by including relief, public works and concentration camp labor—a type labeled as unemployed in the U. S.

(3) There are several million unemployed in Germany who remain unclassified. These are high grade workers who have refused to register as unemployed lest they be put to work at a pittance doing military labor.

In Germany, according to the Hanna report, less than 60 percent of the employed are engaged in productive activities, or on jobs which produce food, clothing and other necessities for the people. More than 40 percent are employed in non-productive military work, including a great army of military police, secret service agents and other government employees, as well as workers in munitions plants.

In the United States, however, non-productive employment is almost negligible. Another highlight is that German taxation to support its war machine amounts to 40 percent of the total national income, whereas U. S. military preparedness costs about 15 percent; in Great Britain, about 20 percent.

Maintenance of non-productive military employment has imposed a tremendous burden on the living standards of the German people. This helps explain the serious economic shape of the country and why an unpopular war is so risky.

AMBASSADORIAL DUEL

The Cuban Embassy has maintained a discreet silence, but the fact has leaked out that Cuban Ambassador Fraga recently resorted to the ancient and honorable practice of defending his honor by issuing a challenge to a duel.

It happened because a cartoonist sketched in the Cuban magazine "Zigzag" a caricature of Fraga which he considered ludicrous and offensive. Fraga, a man of circumspect deportment, took immediate umbrage. Visiting in Havana at the time, he sent his second with a challenge to a duel.

The affair created a sensation in the inner circles of Havana, where it was rumored that Fraga would be forced to resign his post in Washington.

The cartoonist, however, settled the matter off the dueling field by offering formal apologies to Senor Dr. Pedro Martinez Fraga.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:
Up to a continuation of rain, but found no one complaining. Glanced over the morning prints, drank my coffee and then took off for the post. Found there the usual load of requests for free advertising. Wish I had all the postage wasted in that manner. One concern in the East sends me six letters every day, and all the letters identical. I have been receiving them for more than a year and, except for the ones of the first day or two, none has ever been opened. Wastebasket fodder.

Here it is, near the end of the month again. Business has shown some improvement in the last thirty days, for which thank all the powers. Earl Betz tried to force things a little bit, but failed. Ed Wallace made up display cakes from which Easter orders were to be taken. The display cakes were nothing more than cardboard that was covered with decorative icing. One was left at Earl's restaurant. Last evening a stranger appeared, admired the cake and bought it. Earl wrapped it carefully and the man disappeared. About dinnertime he returned, and he was in a froth. He had just cut into the cake, or rather had tried to do so. Earl had been unaware that the cake was not for eating, but for display purposes only.

Looked for Elliot Voll or Harry Weill to learn who won the Chinese checker game of the evening before at the C. A. C. Caught sight of them through the window and watched for ten minutes, but saw only two moves in that time. Pondered the possibility that I am weakening, for three salesmen moved in on me and just wouldn't let me say no inside of an hour. I dislike saying no to salesmen, for every purchase of any kind helps us all just that much, but I never did like the idea of meandering out of sight of my bank account. Have seen too many individuals lost in the financial wilderness. I must know from where the money is coming and when it will come before I spend it. Even so I find the going difficult at times. Seems as though every time I make a purchase of consequence something unexpected pops up.

Helped a farmer start a balking automobile. Noted that his difficulty was much the same as mine a pair of years ago when my car stalled in the middle lane of three lines of traffic just outside the gates of the Indianapolis Speedway. There was a difference, though, for I had to pay $15 to a mechanic, and all he did was tap my starting motor a few times with a hammer. I suggested that the farmer do the same thing and, lo, the Bendix drive spring came loose and the car was under way in a few moments.

Bill Kocheiser asked me what time I eat my bed-time snacks and said he would drop in some evening. Well, it's a good thing he did not choose last night, for all I found in the ice box was a dish of corn and another of spring beans. And I can get along forever without either one. So, did have to do the best I could on a beaker of milk, and there was only one at that.

Science, the Real Detective of Today

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

DR. HARRISON S. MARTLAND, professor of forensic medicine at New York University's College of Medicine, calls our attention to the realities of the methods of detection of murder in our large cities, in contrast to the inspired methods of the detectives of fiction, such as Nero Wolfe, Philo Vance and Perry Mason.

Most murders are impetuous, the result of jealousy, revenge or during fights or brawls. In New York

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

393 of the 426 murders in 1935 were either by shooting, stabbing or assaults with the famous "blunt instrument."

From the standpoint of concealment to avoid detection of the crime, these are stupid methods. If violence is evident, as it must be in a shooting, the greatest primary doubt is laid; the doubt, of course, is whether death came about by natural causes. In poison, a subtler method, there is always a question. Even expert testimony by chemists may leave a jury in doubt.

Easy to Obtain
The frequency of shooting deaths brings up the question of the ease with which it is possible in America to obtain firearms.

"Detective magazines carry a string of advertisements of cheap revolvers guaranteed to kill," says Dr. Martland. "Mail order houses furnish weapons to any one, old and young, sane or insane, good or bad, without the least difficulty."

In regard to self-defense against this battalion of artillery in the hands of irresponsibles, he says, "Anyone familiar with the present day dangers to innocent persons knows full well that unless a person is trained to shoot and kill on sight, possession of firearms only increases the danger. The average unarmed person is much safer in the presence of a criminal than the armed person untrained to shoot to kill."

Dr. Martland makes a very strong plea for the abolition of the system of the coroner. "A dispassionate study of the office leads one to the inevitable conclusion that it is an institution of government wholly unsuited to the needs of the present day. The coroner does nothing that must not be done over again."

Medical Examiner

The system of the medical examiner should be substituted for that of coroner. There is no such office as coroner in Germany, France, Italy, Russia or the Scandinavian countries.

The medical examiner, as part of the Police Department, is called to all sudden or violent deaths. He has been trained in forensic medicine and methods of crime detection, and the law gives him precedence over the police with regard to the body of the victim and its surroundings. The viewing of the body at the place of death is very important and the medical examiner on arrival at the scene can give orders which take precedence over all other individuals or agencies, and until he has taken possession of such objects as he deems necessary no one, not even the police, may take charge or remove the body or any object whatever.

"A letter? From a detective?" Lona's heart contracted. "What did he say?"

"He asks me to find out if you and Jim ever lived in Wetmore, Colorado. It's about that bridge accident that was published in the paper. He says it's important and I'll be doing you a favor. He's coming back to Brighton next week. Did you ever live in Colorado, Lona?" The blue eyes were unhappy.

Lona laughed. "Of course not. Of all the persistence. Jim's never been west of St. Louis, I'm sure of that. He's just on the wrong track, that's all. I wish he would come here. I'd give him a piece of my mind. Bothering people like that. I've a good notion to write him myself. Give me that letter, will you? I want the address. I'll settle

CONTRACT BRIDGE

A RULE TO STRESS

ONE RULE WORTH stressing directs the lead from an almost worthless hand against a no trump game. With such a holding, you know the defense will devolve mainly upon your partner, that if your own long suit gets set up you probably can never regain the lead to cash its long card or cards. Your assignment therefore is to strive to hit your partner's long suit, by leading some short suit of your own. If you happen to pick the right one, your side may down an otherwise unbeatable contract.

Every South in a duplicate tournament got into 3-No trump on this deal, most of them via North's 1-Heart, South's 1-No trump and North's 3-No trump. The relative results depended on the lead chosen by West.

Wherever West picked the old-fashioned fourth-best lead of the club 2, South made two overtricks.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

LEAVING JIM and Clark Martin together at the hospital, Lona hurried down to the railroad station. The clerk was alone in his box of an office and for a long time she stood outside the window staring in, bracing herself, trying to decide if she should plunge now or wait until train time when a request for tickets would not be so noticeable.

As she hesitated, a woman carrying a suitcase came hurrying up the street. Another appeared from the opposite direction, and a taxi turned into the gravelled drive, depositing a luggage-laden salesman. They all made for the ticket window, and Lona congratulated herself. There was a train due now. She marched in with them and took her turn at the window.

The clerk stared at her when she asked for two tickets to Camdon. "You can't get to Camdon on this train, lady," he told her. "This is a southbound. The Camdon train's gone."

"Gone!" Why, I thought—do you mean I've missed it? She hoped her dismay was convincing.

"Sorry. You got the wrong dope somewhere. Train for Camdon leaves at 5:10. No more north-bound tonight."

"I don't know how I could have made such a mistake," she hesitated. "Well, give me the tickets anyway. I'll have them tomorrow, then. Yes, two!"

The clerk slammed down her change with an air of mild contempt and she could have laughed aloud. If anybody asked him questions in the future, he'd swear she left Brighton on the 5:10 tomorrow. That is, if he recalled her at all. She gathered up her tickets and went back out onto the street, feeling pleased with herself.

Dinah and Mrs. Morriss were waiting for her when she arrived home. Mrs. Morriss with her usual motherly solicitude which seemed particularly welcome tonight.

"There was a letter came today," she whispered to Lona when the two were alone in the gracious living room. "From that detective who was asking about Jim."

"A letter? From a detective?" Lona's heart contracted. "What did he say?"

"He asks me to find out if you and Jim ever lived in Wetmore, Colorado. It's about that bridge accident that was published in the paper. He says it's important and I'll be doing you a favor. He's coming back to Brighton next week. Did you ever live in Colorado, Lona?" The blue eyes were unhappy.

Lona laughed. "Of course not. Of all the persistence. Jim's never been west of St. Louis, I'm sure of that. He's just on the wrong track, that's all. I wish he would come here. I'd give him a piece of my mind. Bothering people like that. I've a good notion to write him myself. Give me that letter, will you? I want the address. I'll settle this thing once and for all!"

She looked at the paper Dinah held out to her with a show of indignation that was not wholly a sham. It came from the same address as the one Clark Martin had showed her, she saw before she jammed it down into her pocket-book beside the two railroad tickets she had just purchased. Next week, her mind kept repeating over and over, as she sipped Mrs. Morriss' tea, and tried to seem composed. Next week! Seven days at most! Jim must get well fast. She MUST get him away soon, some way.

She found Jim excited over Martin's invention of a safety net when she visited him the next day. "He's hit on exactly the same thing I did," he told her, enthusiastically. "It'll work, too. Mine would have worked if it hadn't been for—other things." His face clouded and she winced. He sat still for a long minute and she knew that he was remembering.

"He's all ready for a test." His eyes were wistful. "Funny, how he lit on the same idea. Not so funny, either, when you consider how simple it is. The wonder is that nobody ever thought of it before. You see, the principle is this . . . I launched, suddenly, into a technical discourse that Lona could barely follow. But she listened intently, sensing that she was seeing a Jim she hadn't known existed. The eagerness in his voice as he talked of his work—work from which he was forever barred—touched her. She realized fully, for the first time, how dark was the cloud hanging over him.

"Clark's having trouble finding someone to make the test," he added, finally. "After the way my test turned out, there's nobody who wants to take the chance. Wish I was able. I'd do it in a minute!" The brooding look settled in his eyes. "Jim! You mean you'd—jump?"

"Somebody doctored my net the last time, girl." His eyes went hard. "Somebody had a grudge against Tom. Even somebody wanted to see Tom kill himself that day. I've tried to think who it might be, tried until it makes my head hurt. Somebody wanted to kill Tom so bad they were willing to see me—hung for it. If I made this jump now, showed I wasn't afraid, maybe it would clear the whole thing up. I'm tired of dodging like—like a criminal. Maybe it would be better to have it out."

"Jim, don't talk like that. You can't mean it!"

"Do you think it's going to be a nice life for you? Always hiding." "But that would mean giving yourself up. They'd send you to prison, take you away from me. I couldn't stand that, Jim! I've seen enough of prisons. Can't you understand?"

"If I made that jump, I'd be sort of a—hero. No jury would convict me. That's what Clark figures."

"No, Jim, no! Quit talking like that. Don't even think of it. See,

I've bought the tickets to Camdon. We're getting out of here as soon as you're out of bed. We'll start all over, take no chances. It's the only way, Jim. I know what prison means. I know what it is to wait and wait, and watch the faces of a jury, hoping and hoping, and then have your hopes dashed back in your face. I can't stand to even think of that again. We've got to play safe, I tell you. Take no chances. Promise me, Jim! I'll not be satisfied until you promise me you'll have nothing to do with this thing!"

He stroked her hair for a long moment, then sighed. "I guess you're right, girl," he said, at last, the life gone from his voice. "The way Clark put it, it seemed so easy. He says I'll get tripped sooner or later, anyhow, and have to stand trial. I might as well do it in a big way—"

"You'll never be caught, Jim. I won't let you get caught." She put her arms about him protectively, almost fiercely. "We'll be safe—together," she insisted, in a smothered voice.

"Whatever you want, girl." The news of Clark Martin's invention had leaked out. Lona found Dinah excited over the evening paper, when she went home to dinner. "They're going to test it, right here in Brighton," she told Lona, her blue eyes shining. "Boy, would I like to see that! Imagine somebody jumping—actually jumping off the bridge. . . I don't suppose there'll be any place for me in the crowd, though." Her eyes turned wistful and she looked down at the chair to which she was bound.

Lona felt a swift stab of sympathy for the girl as she reached for the paper. Sympathy she forgot as the printed words seemed to leap out and take possession of her mind.

"Engineer to Test Safety Net at Brighton Bridge," the headline proclaimed.

"It was learned today that Clark Martin, the engineer in charge of the construction of the Brighton bridge, is planning to test a safety net of his own invention some time within the next week. Mr. Martin's net is of similar design to the one used in the ill-fated experiment which plunged a man to his death and resulted in the indictment for murder of the inventor several years ago at Wetmore, Colo.

"Martin, whose net has been developed here in Brighton, is looking for a volunteer to jump from the top of the bridge while he manipulates his invention for a safe landing."

Anger took hold of Lona as she read. Martin was deliberately trying to entice Jim. She saw that, and she felt suddenly primitive. She could have scratched Martin's face if he had been with her now. This article would have Jim worked up all over again. Within the next week he was planning on staging his test just when Jim would be getting out of the hospital. Egging him on. And he said he was a friend!

Today's Fashion

THE SMARTEST COATS this Spring are the untrimmed models. These unadorned coats rely on color, line and interesting detail for their charm. Here is a coat that conforms to all these specifications. It is of wool in a delicate shade of almond green. A stitched collar and a stitched band all the way down the front lend an attractive note. Large leather buttons to tone. Slit pockets are in one with the seams at the side, from which terminate inverted flares on the skirt.

For Thursday, March 30

A DAY of major events may be read from the auguries of the mutual aspect of the moon and sun. While very definite if not drastic activities may be pursued under high tension, there also may be some debatable or dubious issues. Employers or superiors may be inclined to lend definite assistance and solid co-operation, but some surprising or tricky thing might "upset the apple cart." The mind may be alert or inspired enough to circumvent such under-cover action. Be keenly vigilant.

How To "Heel In"

"Will it make any difference if I don't get around to planting the shrubs for a few days after they are delivered?" asks the amateur gardener. "No," says the nurseryman, "just heel them in until they are ready for planting." Just what does the nurseryman mean by "heeling in", and how is it done?

Today's Garden-Graph illustrates one method of "heeling in." This is called the "trench" method

Today's Fashion

THE SMARTEST COATS this Spring are the untrimmed models. These unadorned coats rely on color, line and interesting detail for their charm. Here is a coat that conforms to all these specifications. It is of wool in a delicate shade of almond green. A stitched collar and a stitched band all the way down the front lend an attractive note. Large leather buttons to tone. Slit pockets are in one with the seams at the side, from which terminate inverted flares on the skirt.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, March 30

A DAY of major events may be read from the auguries of the mutual aspect of the moon and sun. While very definite if not drastic activities may be pursued under high tension, there also may be some debatable or dubious issues. Employers or superiors may be inclined to lend definite assistance and solid co-operation, but some surprising or tricky thing might "upset the apple cart." The mind may be alert or inspired enough to circumvent such under-cover action. Be keenly vigilant.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of major activities, with much of a drastic important and probably unpredictable character forecast. Important issues are at stake, and they will have the substantial recognition and support of employers, superiors and those in prestige and power. At the same time, loopholes for treachery, surprise and even self-undoing by a peculiar or

GARDEN-GRAPH

How To "Heel In"

"Will it make any difference if I don't get around to planting the shrubs for a few days after they are delivered?" asks the amateur gardener. "No," says the nurseryman, "just heel them in until they are ready for planting." Just what does the nurseryman mean by "heeling in", and how is it done?

Today's Garden-Graph illustrates one method of "heeling in." This is called the "trench" method. The trench should be about 6 inches deep. Lay the shrubs in this trench, in a semi-horizontal position, as illustrated, and throw the loose dirt over their roots. If the earth is damp, no water will be necessary, but if the soil is dry allow the hose to run in the trench until the ground is thoroughly soaked.

Shield the exposed tops of the shrubs from cold winds or sun by covering them loosely with a piece of burlap or heavy paper.

VERY VEILS PREMIER'S NEXT MOVE FOR LAND

"Will Not Remain Prisoner Of Mediterranean,"
Villagers Told

Adolf Hitler and Germany will
will back him to the hilt.

In demonstrating her unwilling-ness to discuss Italy's claims, France has "closed the half-opened door," Virginio Gayda, editor who is close to Mussolini, wrote in
the Giornale D'Italia.

"Italy will wait," he added, indicating that Il Duce has no intention of taking the first step towards opening negotiations with France. This statement also recalled Mussolini's warning of Sunday, that any delay might widen
the rift between France and Italy
until the breach would be impossible to fill.

Il Duce's departure from Rome
revived reports that he might confer with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany and Spanish Generalissimo
Francisco Franco in Sicily.

Mussolini paid no attention to Daladier's radio speech while it was in progress. While the rest of the world was listening to the French premier's momentous broadcast, Il Duce was seen in an automobile en route to Villa
Torlonia, where he boarded a train for Calabria.

He was accompanied by Achil-le Starace, general secretary of the Fascist party, and Dino Alf-ieri, propaganda chief.

Although Daladier might not have spoken, for all the outward
attention he got from Il Duce, it
was surmised that a copy of the address was given to Mussolini
for later study.

An Italian government spokesman declined comment on Daladier's broadcast — but it was obvious that the response in Italy
was not favorable.

Italy Ignores Speech

This was made doubly certain
by the way Daladier's remarks
were studiously ignored. Not a single Italian radio station mentioned the speech and it was expected the Fascist press would give it limited space and a minimum of comment.

Nevertheless, diplomatic circles
in Rome were keenly interested in the dispute between Daladier and Mussolini over an apparent point
of fact. This came to light with Daladier's assertion that the Italian note of December 17, 1938,
denouncing the Franco-Italian accord of 1935, had not set forth
Italy's claims regarding Tunisia,
the Suez Canal and Djibouti. In his speech last Sunday, Il Duce
declared the note had set forth
these claims.

Likewise, the rumors of a possible round-table discussion
among Mussolini, Goering and Franco attracted great attention.
It was pointed out that Goering,
now vacationing at San Remo,
Italy, could easily attend such a conference, while Franco might fly to Sicily after his scheduled
triumphal entry into Madrid.

Calabria, Mussolini's immediate destination, is situated at the southwestern tip of the Italian
peninsula, just across the Straits
of Messina from Sicily.

PARIS, March 30—French government officials waited with keyed up interest today for the Italian reaction to Premier Edouard Daladier's radio address, in which the French statesman
warned this country would give
up no territory in the face of Fascist demands.

The opinion seemed to be in official circles that the next step in the gathering Italo-French
controversy is now up to Rome.

In his speech on Sunday, Mussolini declared that Italy's claims
on France involve Djibouti,
Tunisia and the Suez Canal, but Daladier, in reply, made it clear that France would refuse to relinquish "an inch of territory or
a single one of her rights."

He did not, however, close the door to negotiation of Italo-French problems, asserting that his government does not fear such negotiations and that "justice"
will prevail.

SHIVERING YOUTHS HELD BY SHERIFF AFTER MISHAP

Two young men, shivering from being in the cold rain early Thursday, were lodged in the county jail by Sheriff Charles Radcliff while he checked their stories of "riding around" in Pickaway county Wednesday
night.

One of the men was from Hamden, the other from Wellston.

The sheriff said an auto in which the men were riding ran through a fence at the farm of Byron Bolender, Washington
township, at almost midnight.
The sheriff said the fence was
cut and the men used a farm
gate in an effort to get the car
out, damaging the gate.

No charges have been filed
against the men.

MARKET SHOWS HOPEFUL TREND IN EARLY TRADE

NEW YORK, March 30—The
stock market took a hopeful view
of events abroad today and made further progress in the improvement which got underway yesterday.

Prices were steady at the start
and then moved forward under a small influx of buying. Gains ran to a point and more in some leaders.

Domestic business news included a rise in car loadings and the 14th consecutive gain in bank
clearings over a year ago.

Issues to rise a point and more
were Westinghouse, Union Pacific
and United Aircraft. Douglas also was up this much but gave up part
of the advance later.

Steel shares moved up for fractional gains. Steel was up nearly a point at one time. Motors followed a similar pattern, with Chrysler and General Motors up
fractionally.

American Smelting also moved
up. Kennecott was backward and Anaconda firm.

Some rails firmed up in syn-pathy with further strength in Union Pacific. Utilities were quiet
and mostly somewhat higher.
Chemicals were sluggish. Else-

INDIANAPOLIS, March 30—
The candidacy of 47-year-old Paul
V. McNutt, former governor of Indiana and present high commissioner to the Philippines, for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940, was advanced formally today by the Indiana State Democratic committee.

Announcement of the committee's action, made by Frank McHale, a Democratic national committeeman, was the first formal declaration for a presidential candidate, although several states
have been quietly grooming
"favorite son" candidates, and the Texas legislature this week urged in a resolution that Vice President John Nance Garner was presidential timber.

McHale said that on behalf of the Indiana state committee, he had dispatched letters to Democratic leaders all over the country
notifying them that McNutt's hat
was in the ring. All Democrats in congress, all members of the Democratic national committee,
each Democratic state committee
and thousands of leading Democrats in the nation had been sent letters, McHale said.

The announcement, declared
McHale, carried only one qualification, which was expressed in the phrase, "assuming that President Roosevelt will not be a candidate
for renomination in 1940."

SEVEN PERSONS KNOWN DEAD IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

ATLANTA, Ga., March 30—At least seven persons were dead and an undetermined number were missing today, while numerous
others suffered injuries as the result of torrential rains which swept
the southeastern states last night.

The heavy rains, breaking
droughts in several sections,
brought flood threats to a number of areas.

Six of the deaths were recorded
in Mississippi when the automobiles in which they were riding plunged into the swollen Clear Creek, west of the Big Black River,
last night near Vicksburg, Miss.,
when a bridge collapsed. One fatality, a Negro woman, was reported in Georgia.

The Mississippi fatalities were listed as: James Marcus Meek, an oil driller of Canton, Miss.; S. M.
Wilson, of Jackson; an unidentified
woman; Miss Margaret Guice and Mrs. Ann Turner, both of Memphis, Tenn.

The bodies of Miss Guice and Mrs. Turner had not been recovered at a late hour this morning.

It was estimated that between seven and 11 automobiles and one truck plunged into the stream after the bridge across Clear Creek
collapsed. Highway officials launched an investigation into the cause of the bridge collapse this morning.

Visit by Royal Family To Establish Precedent

QUEBEC, March 30 — When their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth arrive at Quebec
in the H. M. S. Repulse on May 15, they will be following in the footsteps of many members of Britain's Royal family who first set foot on Canadian soil at this old historic city.

Last member of the Royal Family to visit Quebec, was His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester,
Prince Henry, who spent a brief period here in 1929. The previous year, His Royal Highness, the Duke of Kent, Prince George, arrived at Quebec with Rear Admiral F. G. Hyde.

The Duke of Windsor, then
Prince of Wales, visited Quebec
for the last time in July 1927. He was accompanied by the Duke of Kent and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin. The Duke of Windsor also stepped ashore at Quebec for Canadian visits in October 1924
and September 1923. On the latter occasion as the Duke of Renfrew.

The Duke of Windsor made his first visit as Prince of Wales in 1919.

Last visit of the present Sovereign King George VI, was in 1913 when he arrived as Prince
Albert, an officer of the H.M.S.
Cumberland.

Royal Visit in 1908

The late King George V, set foot on Quebec soil as Prince of Wales in 1908. It was the year of the great Tercentenary celebrating the foundation of Quebec by Samuel de Champlain. With King
George and Queen Mary were;
Field Marshal Lord Roberts, Admiral Jellicoe and many others,
who later wrote golden pages in Britain's history.

As Duke of York, King George
V and his consort had previously visited Quebec in 1901.

In 1890, His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, (later Edward
VII) visited Quebec, as did His Royal Highness the Duke of Con-
naught, Prince Arthur. Prince
Arthur had previously come to Canada in 1869 to serve as lieutenant in the army. He was third son of Queen Victoria.

In 1861 Prince Alfred, second

son of Queen Victoria, visited Quebec and it was in the year
previous (1860) that the Prince of Wales, (future King Edward VII)
made his first Quebec visit,
together with the Duke of Newcastle, Minister for the Colonies.

Other Notables Visits

Other notable visits to Quebec
before this period include that of Prince William-Henry, son of George III who followed his brother George IV to the throne as William IV. He arrived at Quebec
in 1787 aboard the frigate Pegasus.
Father of Queen Victoria, the Duke of Kent resided in Quebec
from 1791 to 1794. He commanded the 60th Regiment at that time.
Many other representatives of
royal houses and rulers of countries have enjoyed the hospitality
of this old cradle of civilization in Canada.

Among them are included; King
Pradjadhipok and the Queen of Siam who visited Quebec in July
1931; Prince Chichibu, brother of Emperor Hirochito of Japan and Princess Chichibu, in September 1937.

Another bright page will be written in the history of this Ancient Capital when the first reigning British sovereigns to visit Canada, step forth on American soil
at Quebec.

Walnut township, scheduled for a

missed by the parties. Hoffman sought an injunction restraining Bowers from interfering in any way with a leasehold estate on

CONGRESS AT WORK—Most
of the Congress' time last week
was spent in clearing up the so-called supply bills so that action
could be taken on the more pressing national problems. There are now three supply bills that have become law, six have been approved by the House and five by the Senate. There are a half a dozen more to be taken up by both Houses.

SOCIAL SECURITY — The House Ways and Means Committee voted unanimously to defer
any action on the inclusion of
farm labor, domestic help, and
employees of religious, charitable
and non-profit institutions in the Social Security system. It had been recommended by the Social Security Board that these workers be put into the system, but because the proposals raised problems which could not be solved
before the end of the present session, the Committee would not approve.

SALE OF WARSHIPS AND ARMS — A resolution introduced jointly by Senator Pittman of Nevada and Rep. Bloom of New York has commanded much attention. Senator Pittman, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is author of this resolution which would permit the President to sell warships
and arms of United States manufacture at his discretion. It would also permit him to give the secrets concerning their manufacture and operation to Latin American countries in an effort
to sustain continental solidarity.

SPRING RISE FOR FARM PRODUCTS — The Bureau of Agricultural Economics looks for moderate improvements in the
domestic demand for farm products this Spring and Summer. A slight change for the better in
the outlook for foreign demand
is also noted. Farm products
prices in domestic markets declined about 4 percent during the past Winter, but recently have
been holding relatively steady.
The demand outlook for farm products depends largely upon industrial activity in this country.
The Bureau says that industrial production now appears to be more or less in balance with prevailing consumption, and that any rise of more than seasonal nature
during coming months must represent either a period of inventory accumulation such as occurred in 1936-37 or a period of rising consumption of industrial products.

NAVY GIFTS — Men of Uncle
Sam's Navy, now returning from fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean,
are said to have stowed aboard
their battleships, destroyers, submarines and bombing planes a $3,472.26 assortment of cocktail napkins, finger-tip towels, baby
bibs, baskets, according to reports
from the Virgin Islands Handicraft Cooperatives. Deserving the sterner business of war, the sea
battles and air raids, officers and men brought their ships and planes into the landlocked harbor
of Charlotte Amalie, capital and
commercial center for the American Virgins, and gave a striking demonstration of business trends
in a small tropics town when
"the fleet's in." Sales to men of

precedented $10,573 Winter sales

Of Mediterranean,"

Adolf Hitler and Germany will
will back him to the hilt.

In demonstrating her unwilling-
ness to discuss Italy's claims, France has "closed the half-opened door," Virginia Gayda, editor
who is close to Mussolini, wrote in
the Giornale D'Italia.

"Italy will wait," he added, indicating that Il Duce has no intention of taking the first step towards opening negotiations with France. This statement also recalled Mussolini's warning of Sunday, that any delay might widen
the rift between France and Italy
until the breach would be impossible to fill.

Il Duce's departure from Rome
revived reports that he might
confer with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany and Spanish Generalissimo
Francisco Franco in Sicily.

Mussolini paid no attention to Daladier's radio speech while it
was in progress. While the rest
of the world was listening to the French premier's momentous
broadcast, Il Duce was seen in
an automobile en route to Villa
Torlonia, where he boarded a
train for Calabria.

He was accompanied by Achille Starace, general secretary of the Fascist party, and Dino Alfieri, propaganda chief.

Although Daladier might not
have spoken, for all the outward
attention he got from Il Duce, it
was surmised that a copy of the address was given to Mussolini
for later study.

An Italian government spokesman declined comment on Dalad-ier's broadcast—but it was obvious that the response in Italy
was not favorable.

Italy Ignores Speech

This was made doubly certain
by the way Daladier's remarks
were studiously ignored. Not a single Italian radio station mentioned the speech and it was expected the Fascist press would
give it limited space and a minimum of comment.

Nevertheless, diplomatic circles
in Rome were keenly interested in
the dispute between Daladier and Mussolini over an apparent point
of fact. This came to light with Daladier's assertion that the Italian note of December 17, 1938,
denouncing the Franco-Italian accord of 1935, had not set forth
Italy's claims regarding Tunisia,
the Suez Canal and Djibouti. In
his speech last Sunday, Il Duce
declared the note had set forth
these claims.

Like-wise, the rumors of a possible round-table discussion
among Mussolini, Goering and Franco attracted great attention.
It was pointed out that Goering,
now vacationing at San Remo,
Italy, could easily attend such a conference, while Franco might
fly to Sicily after his scheduled
triumphal entry into Madrid.

Calabria, Mussolini's immediate
destination, is situated at the
southwestern tip of the Italian
peninsula, just across the Straits
of Messina from Sicily.

PARIS, March 30—French government officials waited with
keyed up interest today for the Italian reaction to Premier Edouard Daladier's radio address, in which the French statesman
warned this country would give
up no territory in the face of Fascist demands.

The opinion seemed to be in official circles that the next step
in the gathering Italo-French
controversy is now up to Rome.

In his speech on Sunday, Mus-
solini declared that Italy's claims
on France involve Djibouti,
Tunisia and the Suez Canal, but Daladier, in reply, made it clear
that France would refuse to re-
a single one of her rights."

He did not, however, close the door to negotiation of Italo-
French problems, asserting that
his government does not fear such negotiations and that "justice"
will prevail.

SHIVERING YOUTHS HELD BY SHERIFF AFTER MISHAP

Two young men, shivering from
being in the cold rain early Thursday, were lodged in the county jail by Sheriff Charles Radcliff while he checked their
stories of "riding around" in Pickaway county Wednesday
night.

One of the men was from Ham-
den, the other from Wellston.

The sheriff said an auto in
which the men were riding ran
through a fence at the farm of Byron Bolender, Washington
township, at almost midnight.
The sheriff said the fence was
cut and the men used a farm
gate in an effort to get the car
out, damaging the gate.

No charges have been filed
against the men.

MARKET SHOWS HOPEFUL TREND IN EARLY TRADE

NEW YORK, March 30—The
stock market took a hopeful view
of events abroad today and made
further progress in the improvement which got underway yesterday.

Prices were steady at the start
and then moved forward under a small influx of buying. Gains ran
to a point and more in some leaders.

Domestic business news included a rise in car loadings and the 14th consecutive gain in bank
clearings over a year ago.

Issues to rise a point and more
were Westinghouse, Union Pacific
and United Aircraft. Douglas also
was up this much but gave up part
of the advance later.

Steel shares moved up for fractional gains. Steel was up nearly
a point at one time. Motors followed a similar pattern, with Chrysler and General Motors up
fractionally.

American Smelting also moved
up. Kennecott was backward and Anaconda firm.

Some rails firmed up in sympathy with further strength in Union Pacific. Utilities were quiet
and mostly somewhat higher.
Chemicals were sluggish. Elsewhere the tone was firm.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 30—
The candidacy of 47-year-old Paul
V. McNutt, former governor of Indiana and present high commissioner to the Philippines, for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940, was advanced formally today by the Indiana State Democratic committee.

Announcement of the committee's action, made by Frank McHale, a Democratic national committeeman, was the first formal declaration for a presidential candidate, although several states
have been quietly grooming
"favorite son" candidates, and the Texas legislature this week urged
a resolution that Vice President John Nance Garner was presidential timber.

McHale said that on behalf of
the Indiana state committee, he had dispatched letters to Democratic leaders all over the country
notifying them that McNutt's hat
was in the ring. All Democrats in congress, all members of the Democratic national committee,
each Democratic state committee
and thousands of leading Democrats in the nation had been sent
letters, McHale said.

The announcement, declared
McHale, carried only one qualification, which was expressed in the
phrase, "assuming that President Roosevelt will not be a candidate
for renomination in 1940."

SEVEN PERSONS KNOWN DEAD IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

ATLANTA, Ga., March 30—At least seven persons were dead and
an undetermined number were missing today, while numerous
others suffered injuries as the result of torrential rains which swept
the southeastern states last night.

The heavy rains, breaking
droughts in several sections,
brought flood threats to a number of areas.

Six of the deaths were recorded
in Mississippi when the automobiles in which they were riding
plunged into the swollen Clear
Creek, west of the Big Black River,
last night near Vicksburg, Miss.,
when a bridge collapsed. One fatality, a Negro woman, was reported in Georgia.

The Mississippi fatalities were listed as: James Marcus Meek, an
oil driller of Canton, Miss.; S. M.
Wilson, of Jackson; an unidentified
woman; Miss Margaret Guice and
Mrs. Ann Turner, both of Memphis, Tenn.

The bodies of Miss Guice and Mrs. Turner had not been recovered at a late hour this morning.

It was estimated that between
seven and 11 automobiles and one
truck plunged into the stream after the bridge across Clear Creek
collapsed. Highway officials
launched an investigation into the cause of the bridge collapse this morning.

Visit by Royal Family To Establish Precedent

QUEBEC, March 30 — When
Their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth arrive at Quebec
in the H. M. S. Repulse on May 15, they will be following in the footsteps of many members of Britain's Royal family who first
set foot on Canadian soil at this
old historic city.

Last member of the Royal Family to visit Quebec, was His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester,
Prince Henry, who spent a brief
period here in 1929. The previous year, His Royal Highness, the Duke of Kent, Prince George, arrived at Quebec with Rear Admiral F. G. Hyde.

The Duke of Windsor, then
Prince of Wales, visited Quebec
for the last time in July 1927. He was accompanied by the Duke of Kent and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin. The Duke of Windsor also stepped ashore at Quebec for Canadian visits in October 1924
and September 1923. On the latter occasion as the Duke of Renfrew.

The Duke of Windsor made his first visit as Prince of Wales in 1919.

Last visit of the present Sovereign King George VI, was in 1913 when he arrived as Prince
Albert, an officer of the H.M.S.
Cumberland.

Royal Visit in 1908

The late King George V. set foot on Quebec soil as Prince of Wales in 1908. It was the year of the great Tercentenary celebrating the foundation of Quebec by Samuel de Champlain. With King
George and Queen Mary were;
Field Marshal Lord Roberts, Admiral Jellicoe and many others,
who later wrote golden pages in Britain's history.

As Duke of York, King George
V and his consort had previously
visited Quebec in 1901.

In 1890, His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, (later Edward
VII) visited Quebec, as did His Royal Highness the Duke of Con-
naught, Prince Arthur. Prince
Arthur had previously come to Canada in 1869 to serve as lieutenant in the army. He was third
son of Queen Victoria.

In 1861 Prince Alfred, second

son of Queen Victoria, visited Quebec and it was in the year
previous (1860) that the Prince of Wales, (future King Edward VII)
made his first Quebec visit,
together with the Duke of Newcastle, Minister for the Colonies.

Other Notable Visits

Other notable visits to Quebec
before this period include that of Prince William-Henry, son of George III who followed his
brother George IV to the throne as William IV. He arrived at Quebec
in 1787 aboard the frigate Pegasus.
Father of Queen Victoria, the Duke of Kent resided in Quebec
from 1791 to 1794. He commanded the 60th Regiment at that time.
Many other representatives of
royal houses and rulers of countries have enjoyed the hospitality
of this old cradle of civilization in Canada.

Among them are included; King
Pradadhipok and the Queen of Siam who visited Quebec in July
1931; Prince Chichibu, brother of Emperor Hirohito of Japan and Princess Chichibu, in September 1937.

Another bright page will be written in the history of this Ancient Capital when the first reign-
ing British sovereigns to visit Canada, step on North American soil
at Quebec.

LAND SUIT DISMISSED

man, Walnut township, against George Bowers, also a resident of Walnut township, scheduled for a hearing before Judge Meeker Ter-williger in Common Pleas court Thursday, was settled and dismissed by the parties. Hoffman
sought an injunction restraining Bowers from interfering in any way with a leasehold estate on real estate, from blocking a private roadway and trespassing on lease.

CONGRESS AT WORK—Most
of the Congress' time last week
was spent in clearing up the so-
called supply bills so that action
could be taken on the more pressing national problems. There are now three supply bills that have become law, six have been approved by the House and five by the Senate. There are a half a dozen more to be taken up by both Houses.

SOCIAL SECURITY — The House Ways and Means Committee voted unanimously to defer
any action on the inclusion of
farm labor, domestic help, and
employees of religious, charitable
and non-profit institutions in the Social Security system. It had been recommended by the Social Security Board that these workers be put into the system, but
because the proposals raised problems which could not be solved
before the end of the present session, the Committee would not approve.

SALE OF WARSHIPS AND ARMS — A resolution introduced
jointly by Senator Pittman of Nevada and Rep. Bloom of New York has commanded much attention. Senator Pittman, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is author of
this resolution which would permit the President to sell warships
and arms of United States manufacture at his discretion. It would also permit him to give the secrets concerning their manufacture and operation to Latin American countries in an effort
to sustain continental solidarity.

SPRING RISE FOR FARM PRODUCTS — The Bureau of Agricultural Economics looks for
moderate improvements in the
domestic demand for farm products this Spring and Summer. A slight change for the better in
the outlook for foreign demand
is also noted. Farm products
prices in domestic markets declined about 4 percent during the past Winter, but recently have
been holding relatively steady.
The demand outlook for farm
products depends largely upon industrial activity in this country.
The Bureau says that industrial
production now appears to be
more or less in balance with pre-valing consumption, and that any rise of more than seasonal nature
during coming months must represent either a period of inventory accumulation such as occurred in 1936-37 or a period of rising consumption of industrial products.

NAVY GIFTS — Men of Uncle
Sam's Navy, now returning from
fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean,
are said to have stowed aboard
their battleships, destroyers, sub-
marines and bombing planes a $3,472.26 assortment of cocktail napkins, finger-tip towels, baby
bibs, baskets, according to reports
from the Virgin Islands Handicraft Cooperatives. Deserving the
sterner business of war, the sea
battles and air raids, officers and
men brought their ships and
planes into the landlocked harbor
of Charlotte Amalie, capital and
commercial center for the American Virgins, and gave a striking
demonstration of business trends
in a small tropics town when
"the fleet's in." Sales to men of the fleet, in addition to the unprecedented $10,573 Winter sales

to cruise tourists, have so depleted the handicraft stock that the Cooperatives will be unable to furnish the regular quota to the next two cruise ships scheduled to call in the Virgin Islands. It must be that every wife and sweetheart of the fleet will receive a gift.

BOSTON HURLER GIVES ONE BLOW IN FIRST WORK

Durocher Ready To Alter Dodger Lineup; Feller Starts For Indians

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30 — That breeze ruffling the palms around the Red Sox training camp today was the collective sigh of relief heaved by the Boston club when Lefty Grove reported not the slightest trace of pain or numbness after pitching three innings against the Cincinnati Reds and allowing only one hit.

Although the Reds triumphed 1-0, the fact that Grove made an excellent showing served as balm for the sting. Meantime, the Louisville Colonels were here for a game but the Sox squad was minus two men. Manager Joe Cronin optioned Outfielder Chet Morgan to Louisville and dispatched Pitcher Bill Sayles to Little Rock.

Thompson and Livengood pitched for the Redlegs.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 30 — Back from Lakeland after dropping a 9-8 game to the Detroit Tigers, the Boston Bees entertained the Newark Bears today.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 — Making it three in a row, Pittsburgh's Pirates today held a 5 to 0 victory over the San Francisco Seals. Pitching stars for the fray were Corsairs Lefty Ken Heintzelman and Truett Sewall. Last game in the series was scheduled to be played today.

CUERO, Tex., March 30 — After eight attempts and as many failures, the slowly improving Phillies today had scored a win over the St. Louis Browns. In a see-saw battle marked by hard hitting, the Phils nosed out their American league rivals 14-13.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30 — Manager Joe McCarthy beamed satisfaction today as the champion New York Yankees prepared to break camp and hit the Texas trail via Tallahassee and New Orleans. The only item disturbing McCarthy was the continued hold-out of Third Baseman Red Rolfe which is preventing the establishment of the batting order.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March — The Brooklyn Dodgers lineup which Manager Leo Durocher proudly named a month ago and which executive Vice President Larry MacPhail approved was all shot to pieces today. As a result, Durocher appealed to MacPhail for some new players. The only Dodgers who appear to have qualified are Durocher at short; Dolph Camilli at first base and Gene Moore in right field.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 30 — Dixie Walker, regular left fielder for the Detroit Tigers last year, will be shifted to center field during the coming season, according to plans of the Tiger board of strategy today. Walker played center for a few innings yesterday as the Tigers whipped the Boston Bees 9-8 in a free hitting contest.

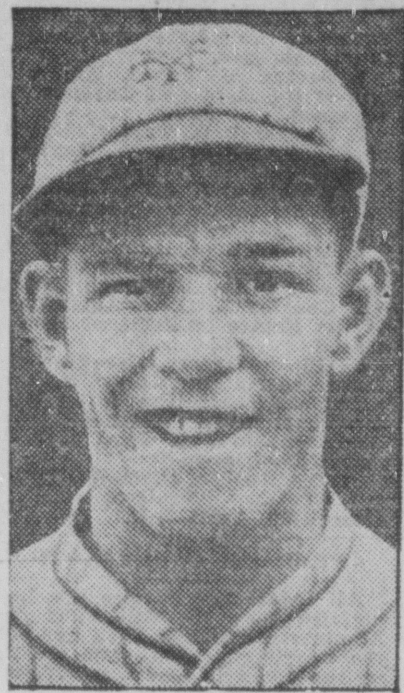

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 30 — Bob Feller was named as one of the Indians' pitchers for the Tribe's engagement today with the Philadelphia Athletics, the fourth exhibition game of the season between the two teams.

The Macks have taken two of the three games played, swamping the Indians 15 to 6 yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, March 30 — First semi-official attempt to establish betting odds on the Joe Louis-Jack Roper fight was made today by Joe Waterman, Los Angeles matchmaker. Waterman, a shrewd judge of fights, odds and angles, is asking 20 to 1.

BIRDS' HURLING STAFF MIGHTY

Andrews' Example Being Followed By Mates; Southpaws Star

COLUMBUS, March 30 — The Columbus Red Birds, in camp two weeks, appear at this stage of their pre-season training to be the finest conditioned group of athletes ever assembled under the West Mound street banner.

The training routine of Nate Andrews has apparently become contagious. Last year, Andrews flipped the Fairbanks at an even 200 pounds. Much too heavy around the mid-section, Andrews' pitching fell off and his attempts to field balls hit to the mound were rather awkward.

Reporting this year a week ahead of the other Red Birds, Andrews has trained down to 180 pounds. The resulting effectiveness of his twirling has been beautiful to behold. His fast ball has a zip and a hop to it and he will make Association batters eat those base hits he allowed them last year.

Now that the first weeks in training have been completed, the Red Bird pitching department seems to be by far the strongest piece in the Red Bird ensemble. On the Bird chunking list are twelve slabsmen, and six of them may be termed dependable starting hurlers. These include the two Maxes, Macon and Lanier—both southpaws, and Andrews, Krausse, Kleinke and Fisher, right handers.

Three more will probably be picked from the younger group in camp, as Shotton intends to carry nine pitchers during the regular season. Among those most likely to stick are Red Todd, up from Asheville; George Hader, with the Red Birds a while last Spring and a seven and one winner with Columbus, Georgia in 1938; Bill Curlee, who was also with Columbus, Georgia last season, and Jake Drake, who campaigned with Springfield in the Western Association last year.

Judd, left handed pitcher obtained with Kleinke in the Harry Davis deal, is being converted into an outfielder due to his heavy clubbing. Hitting from the port side, Judd hits the ball with plenty of power and may be the club's reserve outfielder and pinch hitter.

Sleep after toil, port after stormy seas, Ease after war, death after life, does greatly please.

With Roper given some backing on the theory it is impossible to deny him a "puncher's chance," it is likely Louis will be about 10 to 1 when they enter the ring at Wrigley field the night of April 17.

HELFRICH TEAM ENTERING NEW BASEBALL LOOP

New Hollanders To Play All Home Games During Summer

Mike Helfrich's Rathskeller baseball team will be entered in strong competition during the Summer in a new Southwestern Ohio diamond loop. Helfrich announced Thursday that he had signed articles that will put his boys in the loop. All of New Holland's games will be played on the home lot.

Other cities and towns in the league will include Sabina, Dayton, Springfield, Middletown, Harveysburg and Miamisburg.

The league will open its festivities on May 7. Helfrich plans to start his team's workouts on April 16 when an exhibition game will be played.

Helfrich said that Art Walker, Jackson township athlete, would be his third baseman again this year, "providing Art gives up softball." Helfrich said that he would not permit any of his athletes to play the recreation game. He declared that it hurts their batting eyes for hardball.

Any other Circleville or community athletes who want to try out with the New Holland team should contact Helfrich.

Several Lancaster and Laurelville youths are being sought for service.

COLUMBUS, March 30 — The National A.A.U. swimming championships were slated to get under way in Ohio State university's natatorium this afternoon with almost every world record holder entered in one event or another.

MASTERS' GOLF NOVA TO START TOURNEY OPENS DRILL FOR BAER IN AUGUSTA, GA. AT SWANKY SPOT

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 30 — The nation's greatest golfers, both professional and amateur, teed off today in the sixth annual $5,000 invitation Augusta Masters' golf tourney here.

Joint favorites at 8 to 1 were Ralph Guldahl, National Open winner for the last two years; Sam Snead, biggest money winner in 1938, and Henry Picard, the defending tourney champion.

In addition to Picard, all of the former winners were in the field. These included Horton Smith, who took the first tournament in 1934 and then repeated in 1936; Gene Sarazen, 1935 victor, and Byron Nelson, who triumphed in 1937. Each of this trio was quoted at 14 to 1.

"Lighthouse" Harry Cooper was an 11 to 1 shot; Ed Dudley, Augusta pro, was 12 to 1, and Dick Metz, who topped the money winners during the last Winter, was rated at 14 to 1.

Bobby Jones, retired wizard, who never finished higher than thirteenth in this event, was listed at 40 to 1. Jones, however, was in fine fettle and predicted that if he had any success with his putting he would finish among the leaders.

BOSTON HURLER GIVES ONE BLOW IN FIRST WORK

Durocher Ready To Alter Dodger Lineup; Feller Starts For Indians

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30 — That breeze ruffling the palms around the Red Sox training camp today was the collective sigh of relief heaved by the Boston club when Lefty Grove reported not the slightest trace of pain or numbness after pitching three innings against the Cincinnati Reds and allowing only one hit.

Although the Reds triumphed 1-0, the fact that Grove made an excellent showing serves as balm for the sting. Meantime, the Louisville Colonels were here for a game but the Sox squad was minus two men. Manager Joe Cronin optioned outfielder Chet Morgan to Louisville and dispatched Pitcher Bill Sayles to Little Rock.

Thompson and Livengood pitched for the Redlegs.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 30 — Back from Lakeland after dropping a 9-8 game to the Detroit Tigers, the Boston Bees entertained the Newark Bears today.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 — Making it three in a row, Pittsburgh's Pirates today held a 5 to 0 victory over the San Francisco Seals. Pitching stars for the fray were Corsairs Lefty Ken Heintzelman and Truett Sewall. Last game in the series was scheduled to be played today.

CUERO, Tex., March 30 — After eight attempts and as many failures, the slowly improving Phillies today had scored a win over the St. Louis Browns. In a see-saw battle marked by hard hitting, the Phils nosed out their American league rivals 14-13.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30 — Manager Joe McCarthy beamed satisfaction today as the champion New York Yankees prepared to break camp and hit the Texas trail via Tallahassee and New Orleans. The only item disturbing McCarthy was the continued hold-out of Third Baseman Red Rolfe which is preventing the establishment of the batting order.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March — The Brooklyn Dodgers lineup which Manager Leo Durocher proudly named a month ago and which executive Vice President Larry MacPhail approved was all shot to pieces today. As a result, Durocher appealed to MacPhail for some new players. The only Dodgers who appear to have qualified are Durocher at short; Dolph Camilli at first base and Gene Moore in right field.

LAKE LAND, Fla., March 30 — Dixie Walker, regular left fielder for the Detroit Tigers last year, will be shifted to center field during the coming season, according to plans of the Tiger board of strategy today. Walker played center for a few innings yesterday as the Tigers whipped the Boston Bees 9-8 in a free hitting contest.

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 30 — Bob Feller was named as one of the Indians' pitchers for the Tribe's engagement today with the Philadelphia Athletics, the fourth exhibition game of the season between the two teams.

The Macks have taken two of the three games played, swamping the Indians 15 to 6 yesterday.

ODDS 20 TO 1 ON JOE LOUIS AGAINST ROPER

LOS ANGELES, March 30 — First semi-official attempt to establish betting odds on the Joe Louis-Jack Roper fight was made today by Joe Waterman, Los Angeles matchmaker. Waterman, a shrewd judge of fights, odds and angles, is asking 20 to 1.

BIRDS' HURLING STAFF MIGHTY

Andrews' Example Being Followed By Mates; Southpaws Star

COLUMBUS, March 30 — The Columbus Red Birds, in camp two weeks, appear at this stage of their pre-season training to be the finest conditioned group of athletes ever assembled under the West Mound street banner.

The training routine of Nate Andrews has apparently become contagious. Last year, Andrews flipped the Fairbanks at an even 200 pounds. Much too heavy around the mid-section, Andrews' pitching fell off and his attempts to field balls hit to the mound were rather awkward.

Reporting this year a week ahead of the other Red Birds, Andrews has trained down to 180 pounds. The resulting effectiveness of his twirling has been beautiful to behold. His fast ball has a zip and a hop to it and he will make Association batters eat those base hits he allowed them last year.

Now that the first weeks in training have been completed, the Red Bird pitching department seems to be by far the strongest piece in the Red Bird ensemble. On the Bird chunking list are twelve slabsmen, and six of them may be termed dependable starting hurlers. These include the two Maxes, Macon and Lanier—both southpaws, and Andrews, Krause, Kleinke and Fisher, right handers.

Three more will probably be picked from the younger group in camp, as Shotton intends to carry nine pitchers during the regular season. Among those most likely to stick are Red Todd, up from Asheville; George Hader, with the Red Birds a while last Spring and a seven and one winner with Columbus, Georgia in 1938; Bill Curlee, who was also with Columbus, Georgia last season, and Jake Drake, who campaigned with Springfield in the Western Association last year.

Judd, left handed pitcher obtained with Kleinke in the Harry Davis deal, is being converted into an outfielder due to his heavy clubbing. Hitting from the port side, Judd hits the ball with plenty of power and may be the club's reserve outfielder and pinch hitter.

Sleep after toil, port after stormy seas,
Ease after war, death after life,
does greatly please. —Spenser.

"$1,000 that Roper flattens Louis," said Waterman. "There were no takers."

With Roper given some backing on the theory it is impossible to deny him a "puncher's chance," it is likely Louis will be about 10 to 1 when they enter the ring at Wrigley field the night of April 17.

Ott, for the Louisiana larruper has been "making" the team for half his life.

Master Melvin, captain of the Giants today, is one of the most remarkable players in the history of the game. A veteran of 14 years in the majors, Mel still counts only 30 birthdays.

Comes to Camp as Kid
Back in 1925, a friend of John McGraw's, working in a Louisiana lumber camp, recommended a kid ball player, a catcher, as a promising athlete. The kid was Ott. McGraw signed him, took him to the Giants' Sarasota, Fla., training camp, looked him over and decided he was too small for a catcher, turned him into an outfielder.

When Master Melvin reported to the training camp, he gave his age at 16 instead of 17. Asked why, he replied:

"I don't want to be called a kid."

Mel has been the outstanding batting star of the Giants ever since. Today, one of the game's veterans, he still is the Giants' big offensive weapon and home run king.

Awaiting the opening of his fifteenth season in the majors, Mel can look back upon an outstanding lifetime career in baseball.

In his first year of action with the Giants, 1926, Mel batted for a mighty .383 in 35 games. He boasts of a 13-year major league average of .315, one of the highest in the game.

Tough to Pitch To
The Gretna, La., native, a left-handed batter, is one of the most difficult batsmen to pitch to in the majors. Pitchers dread his appearance at the plate when the bags are occupied. For six years of his 13, Mel has been given 100 or more bases on balls.

Only five feet nine inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, Mel is a power hitter, a slugger. He has slammed more home runs than any other National leaguer, 342. He has been home run king for the last four years, belting 35 in 1935, busting 33 in 1936, blasting 31 in '37 and bombarding 36 last year. He has hit 30 or more home runs seven years.

Mel has participated in 1,739 games, scored 1,247 runs, poled 1,939 hits and stolen 60 bases. He has taken the field in three world's series, owning a .295 series average. He has been named on four all-star teams and has played in five all-star games.

He has hit home runs with the bases loaded four times in his career. He holds or shares many other records.

ANDY VARIPAPA TO TEST SKILL IN A. B. C. MEET

CLEVELAND, March 30 — Andy Varipapa, barrel-chested trick-shot artist, and veteran star of the shining lanes, will pair with Ora Mayer of San Francisco, Cal., in the doubles, as headliners in the American Bowling Congress championships at Cleveland's Exhibition Hall, today.

Husky Andy who has a "300" perfect score for each of his years, is one of the game's most colorful figures, carrying a cross-country catch-as-catch can average of better than 218 and a 10-year level in A.B.C. warfare of 200.60.

Tall, distinguished-looking Mayer, ace of the Pacific coast pin toppling talent, reached the heights of a long career on the bowling boards with a 2,022 bark to win the all-events title at Syracuse in 1935.

Mayer got away to a slow start on the nine-game trial last night when he shot a 560 series as the Calvert Distillers from Frisco stopped on 2,800 flat, 223 pins less than their tenth place 3,023 blast last year. Varipapa, firing his minor events first, will appear in the five-man lineup of the McShane lunch from Dayton, O., tomorrow night.

COLLINS ANGRY AFTER TRANSFER TO MINOR LOOP

LOS ANGELES, March 30 — James "Ripper" Collins, regular Chicago Cubs first baseman for the last two seasons, who was sold outright to the Los Angeles Pacific coast league team, declared today he had not been treated fairly.

Collins, informed of the transaction during the Cubs-White Sox game yesterday, stalked off to the clubhouse in stony-faced silence, but had plenty to say to reporters when he had cooled off.

"If they had only told me during the Winter what their intentions were," he declared, "I could have done some good for myself. I had two offers to manage minor league clubs. One of them would have paid me around $12,000, as much as I could make in the majors."

The Cubs obtained Collins in 1936 with Roy Parmelee in a deal that sent Lon Warneke to the St. Louis Cardinals. He played in 143 games last season for the Cubs, batting .267.

OPERATION OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT FACES INDEFINITE DELAY

COUNCIL SEEKS LONG EXTENSION FOR COMPLETION

Government Fund Asked As Solicitor Reports Some Work Undone

BILLS GO OUT APRIL 1

Loomis, Contractor, Invited To Attend Meeting Next Week

With the hope of obtaining a supplemental P. W. A. grant to complete certain items of the municipal disposal plant project, council voted Wednesday night to instruct the service director to request a 120-day extension from April 29 for the final completion date of the plant.

This request will be sent to the Public Works Administration. Council's action followed a meeting of P. W. A. officials Wednesday with Carl C. Leist, solicitor. The city had filed an application with the Public Works Administration for a supplemental grant when costs of the plant exceeded the original estimates.

The grant requested of the government includes $1,680 for construction of a macadam roadway, $2,000 for laboratory equipment, $1,010 for loan, seeding and sodding of the plant site, and $500 for miscellaneous contingencies. These items would be paid entirely by the grant.

Mr. Leist explained to council the question as to whether these items of the project will be included or deleted from the project depends entirely on whether or not the additional grant is allowed. Unless the grant is given there will be no funds available for this work.

120 Days Required

It was pointed out that if the additional grant is allowed it will require the 120 days in order to prepare plans and specifications, advertise for bids on the work, let contracts and do the work. Mr. Leist said it would be physically impossible to complete these items of the project by the completion date now established, April 29. All councilmen voted in favor of requesting the extension.

Councilmen decided to invite William Loomis, of Logan, the contractor on the plant, to attend the regular meeting of council next Wednesday night for a general discussion of acceptance of the work at the plant completed to date. The city's acceptance of the work completed so far would relieve the contractor of keeping watchmen at the plant until the final completion.

So far council has established no date for placing the plant in operation. This matter was not discussed at the special meeting Wednesday night. The first quarterly bills for the plant operation will be issued to property owners April 1 and are payable by April 15.

YANKEE CLIPPER BEGINS FLIGHT OF 1,050 MILES

Huge Airplane, Carrying 21, Enroute To Portugal From Azores

34 Persons To Return From Bermuda On Another Craft

HORTA, Azores, March 30—The pan-American airways' 42-ton Yankee Clipper took off from Horta at 4:14 a. m. today enroute to Lisbon, Portugal, on the second leg of its trial passenger flight to Europe.

With 21 passengers and crew members aboard, the giant Atlantic liner began its 1,050-mile hop to the mainland after arriving at Horta two days ago from Baltimore.

The huge 74-passenger sky boat made the 2,800-mile flight over Atlantic from the United States to Azores in 17 hours and 32 minutes at an average speed of 160 miles per hour.

Besides Captain Harold E. Gray, commander, the plane carried a crew of 11, three civilian flight experts, and six United States government observers.

From Lisbon the clipper will go to Marseille, France, and hence to Southampton, England. The plane will then make a trip to Foynes, Ireland, before returning over the same route to America.

The 10,000-mile shakedown cruise is being made to inspect base facilities, check radio communications and weather report service before starting regular passenger service across the Atlantic.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 30—The pan-American airways' Atlantic Clipper No. 20 was scheduled to take off today with 34 passengers on its return trip from Bermuda to Port Washington, L. I., and Baltimore, Md.

The huge new 42-ton flying boat made its initial eastern hop to the airways' Bermuda base yesterday carrying a record number of 38 passengers.

THREE KILLERS LOSE APPEALS TO HIGH COURT

COLUMBUS, March 30—Refused the right of appeal by the Ohio supreme court, three convicted Springfield slayers of two peace officers today based their hopes for escape from execution April 19 on executive clemency from the governor.

Convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Edward Furry and Patrolman Martin Randolph after they had helped up a Springfield restaurant proprietor's son, the men, Henry and Harry Dingleline, and Harry Chapman, sought review of their cases in the high court.

The two officers were killed during a gun battle near Springfield on Sept. 3, 1937, when officers surrounded a cottage in which the men had barricaded themselves after the holdup.

The White House, home of the United States presidents, always was called the executive mansion until "Teddy" Roosevelt's time. He suggested that the president's home bear a more distinctive title, and the White House it has been ever since.

PROFICIENCY IN ATHLETIC DEGREE GIVEN AT HIRAM

HIRAM, O. — A degree of proficiency in athletics has been established as a new requirement for graduation from Hiram college.

Men students, to be eligible for graduation, must have had four semesters' active participation in the program of the physical education department and they must be able to pass tests of skill in several sports.

Purpose of the plan, according to Herbert C. Matthews, Director of Physical Education for Men, is to be "sure that every Hiram man has enough skill, knowledge and interest in sports to give him a rounded college career and to establish habits that will help to keep him fit throughout life."

YANKEE CLIPPER BEGINS FLIGHT OF 1,050 MILES

Huge Airplane, Carrying 21, Enroute To Portugal From Azores

34 Persons To Return From Bermuda On Another Craft

HORTA, Azores, March 30—The pan-American airways' 42-ton Yankee Clipper took off from Horta at 4:14 a. m. today enroute to Lisbon, Portugal, on the second leg of its trial passenger flight to Europe.

With 21 passengers and crew members aboard, the giant Atlantic liner began its 1,050-mile hop to the mainland after arriving at Horta two days ago from Baltimore.

The huge 74-passenger sky boat made the 2,800-mile flight over Atlantic from the United States to Azores in 17 hours and 32 minutes at an average speed of 160 miles per hour.

Besides Captain Harold E. Gray, commander, the plane carried a crew of 11, three civilian flight experts, and six United States government observers.

From Lisbon the clipper will go to Marseille, France, and hence to Southampton, England. The plane will then make a trip to Foynes, Ireland, before returning over the same route to America.

The 10,000-mile shakedown cruise is being made to inspect base facilities, check radio communications and weather report service before starting regular passenger service across the Atlantic.

THREE KILLERS LOSE APPEALS TO HIGH COURT

COLUMBUS, March 30—Refused the right of appeal by the Ohio supreme court, three convicted Springfield slayers of two peace officers today based their hopes for escape from execution April 19 on executive clemency from the governor.

Convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Edward Furry and Patrolman Martin Randolph after they had helped up a Springfield restaurant proprietor's son, the men, Henry and Harry Dingleline, and Harry Chapman, sought review of their cases in the high court.

The two officers were killed during a gun battle near Springfield on Sept. 3, 1937, when officers surrounded a cottage in which the men had barricaded themselves after the holdup.

The White House, home of the United States presidents, always was called the executive mansion until "Teddy" Roosevelt's time. He suggested that the president's home bear a more distinctive title, and the White House it has been ever since.

muda to Port Washington, L. I., and Baltimore, Md.,

The huge new 42-ton flying boat made its initial eastern hop to the airways' Bermuda base yesterday carrying a record number of 38 passengers.
